MASTER'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

Officers, Members of the Delegate Body, Patrons and Friends:

A century ago, seven determined men originated on this continent, an inspired association of men and women whose labors during the 100 year interval have had more profound influence on our American way of life than any single formal or informal group of citizens.

It is a proud and vigorous existence and during November 1967, all eyes will be turned towards Syracuse, New York to enthuse with the thousands of expectant Patrons, the signal honors demanded for such a stirring occasion.

Great as the accomplishments of this illustrious organization have been, the future promises still more glorious contributions to our National life.

Therefore, as we open this 95th annual session of the California State Grange, we pledge our hearts, minds and physical energy toward improving the science of agriculture, the welfare of our communities, and a resolve for a stricter observance of the ideals which have kept this nation a world power for almost 200 years.

Many in the audience today are traveling down Memory Lane with happy recollections of a similar gathering during October 1938 in this historic building. Twenty-nine years is in reality a short interval measured by the Sands of Time, but during this period the world has rocketed into realms of science, affluence and change more rapidly than any period in history. The atomic, space age is with us and those who do not recognize the transition and attune themselves to its tempo, will be swept aside. This does not mean that the principles so boldly proclaimed by our founding fathers, 100 years ago, are out of date, in fact they are needed more desperately now than they were in 1867, but the method of fulfilling them must change with the times.

The Grange has a mission to inculcate the inescapable laws of decency, morality, thrift and compassion for its fellow human to our nearly two hundred million citizens so that its full meaning will serve as a beacon to billions of people on the globe; gradually enfolding them in its simple, beautiful and rudimentary plan for a way of life that will lead us out of darkness. Fanciful thinking, no, just one of the objects of our Order.

AGRICULTURE

The calendar year of 1966 for California Agriculture showed a total output direct to producers of approximately $4 billion dollars, still the largest total of any of our states. This picture may be drastically reduced for the 1967 total due to adverse weather conditions during most of the planting and growing season from January 1st to June 1, 1967. Early garden vegetables, as well as strawberries suffered intensely. Fruit crops fared just as badly, many apricots, cherry and pear orchards were fortunate to harvest 25% of a normal yield. Delayed planting of tomatoes and rice also may have its effect on the total output of these important California revenue producers. One bright picture was cereal and feed grains—they bid fair to show the heaviest yielding year in California history. Range conditions were also ideal. A long dry fall will help the rice crop, so that when the final totals are in, California should still have a cash crop of over three billion dollars again in 1967.

It is well to remember that mighty as California's industrial role plays in this state, Agriculture still accounts for practically one third of all jobs. Agriculture is what largely makes the wheels go around in California, so every act should be to protect and expand this life-blood of our economy.

A flourishing California agriculture pumps into the state's financial life, first the over four billion dollar cash return to the producers, then the millions of dollars in fertilizers, agricultural machinery, payrolls for those engaged in spraying, planting, harvesting and transporting this tonnage. Then the millions of dollars invested in processing plants, the million in wages to their employees. The millions invested in trucks, the millions of dollars paid to the railroad for moving this tonnage, the boxes, cartons, labels, bottles, cans and the thousands of vital items that employ several million highly paid workers. All these add billions to our income. Reduce this output by a considerable fraction and you disturb a delicate financial web. Wise business and governmental leaders will do everything in their power to keep a strong, healthy and expanding California Agriculture.

California Agriculture differs from the generally accepted concept of rural communities largely interested in the production of wheat and coarse grain. California's annual wheat crop of 8 million bushel while contributing to the general total is just a fraction of our total four billion dollar agricultural output. Most national programs and the press generally throughout the nation stress the production of wheat. Our National Grange even in its deliberations largely beams its releases and general philosophy on wheat and coarse grain. This is important, but California has its immense Dairy and Live stock output, Cotton, its Citrus: Dates, Figs, Almonds, Walnuts, Avocados, Artichokes. Along with it, the production of vegetables, fresh fruits and its fruit and vegetable canning industry which largely make up our four billion dollar total crop output.

In our international dealings, it seems as though the most important emphasis is placed solely on the export of wheat, corn, etc. and interests of the largest agricultural producing state in the union are sometimes overlooked.

Maybe our legislative representatives in Congress are not as diligent as they well might be in demanding recognition of California's vital contribution to the nation's economy. California producers of specialty crops such as figs, dates, walnuts, almonds, olives and similar products should be protected and their crops not be used as pawns by our government in order to secure markets for American wheat and cereal grains. This is a serious matter and our Congressional representatives should see that California shares in the general discussions where California crops are vitally concerned.

Not so many years ago, certain sections of California were dotted with olive groves, largely for the production of olive oil. The low priced foreign olive oil has practically eliminated this segment of California agriculture. The canned or processed olive industry was left to the domestic producer, but we see now the gradual influx of foreign produced olives in the super markets. We hope the Commercial Olive industry will fight back and maintain control of our domestic market.

Superior quality, combined with effective advertising and shrewd merchandising has enabled millions of dollars of California canned fruits to enjoy a wide sale in European markets. This exportable surplus contributes largely to stability of the entire California Fruit Canning Industry. Now this is being threatened by certain governments exporting similar fruit products who subsidize a portion of the cost. California exporters sell their products on their merits alone. California producers along with the California State Grange as well as the National Grange are making vigorous protests to the State Department, Department of Commerce and the Secretary of Agriculture to use every means at their disposal to discourage the unethical attempts of certain exporting nations.

It is also brutally true that in order to sell our products to the world we must purchase some of our customers wares. This is understood by all thinking people, but to make California specialty crops the whipping boy for unlimited entry of competing items, with no protection, should be resisted to the fullest extent by all our legislative representatives, agricultural organizations who have a stake in California's continuing agricultural economy.

Startling changes come overnight in the California agricultural picture. Mechanization is revamping the entire picture and more innovations are in the drawing board stage. Technics that were considered wishful thinking a few short years ago are now working profitably. These mechanized machines, while reducing to a minimum the need of hand labor, are expensive; making it a problem for an efficient, independent farm operator to finance their cost. To these operators, there is one way to survive, join with his neighbors for the joint purchase or lease of these modern mechanical aids. Only by doing this can he share the cost and stay in business as a going concern. If certain mechanized machines can be used by a corporate farming concern for a large acreage—a number of independent operators can most certainly spread the use of it over their holdings. This enables them to take advantage of the latest in mechanical farming and share the cost with other operators. This is one way out and should be thoroughly explored.

THE EFFICIENT, INDEPENDENT FAMILY FARM OPERATION

The Grange was organized nationally and in California for the expansion and preservation of the efficient, independent family form operation.

In this day of huge agricultural operations, California has travelled further down the path of corporation farming than any of the other states.

Due to the price squeeze between the producer return and the consumer paying price, it has forced larger farming operations to maintain the same general level of annual income. Inflation has also taken its toll in everything the farmer buys. Larger individual operations however, does not mean that we should have 25,000 acre and larger agricultural installations as the sole agricultural picture in California.

The resourceful, individual farm operator can succeed and he is needed in the California agricultural and financial picture. Some of our supposed agricultural leaders who advocate 25,000 acre and larger installations should consider this. The great Central Valleys from Tule Lake on the north to Wheeler Ridge on the south would present a vastly different picture. First, 90% of the farm homes would be vacant. 90% of the stores would be closed 90% of the schools would have no pupils. 90% of the banks and branch banks would be inoperative. There would be miles of planted crops, but it would be void of the very thing that makes the present economic picture in our Central Valley one of the world's finest examples of modern day living. Think of the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars each year in the purchase of the vast needs of the American home. Think of the cultural loss with thousands of vacant school rooms, thousands of vacant stores. Few if any churches. The owners and a few hired hands would not make up for the billion dollar or more loss of general revenue. Think of the loss of cities, public buildings, tax returns and the greatest tragedy of all, the loss of these valuable citizens. People who advocate 25,000 acre and larger farm installations tell us that the former farm occupants with their families would be gainfully employed in industry in the large cities. How intelligent people can digest this sort of warped thinking is beyond human understanding. This is the stark truth and many in our governmental bodies as well as institutions of higher learning are advocating just this sort of agriculture for California.

There is still a vital place in California's agricultural economy for the efficient, independent farm operations. True, they will have to in many instances increase their acreage and fight with every weapon at their disposal for survival. It can be done.

We believe certain Federal Farm Policies have encouraged corporate type of farming operations in America. For years the California State Grange and in 1960 the National Grange adopted resolutions that a limit be placed on the total amount of grants, subsidies or payments any agricultural operation could receive in a calendar year. We still believe this necessary.

The ideal arrangement will come when farmers plant what they choose, market their product to the best advantage possible and control their own destiny. We've traveled far from this road in the past 30 years and it will take time to get back to normal.

During this period of transition it is reasonable and necessary to place a limit on the amount of funds that can be milked out of the Federal Treasury.

Senator Williams of Delaware recently shocked the nation with a demand that the Congressional Record print a list of those receiving federal hand-outs in excess of $100,000 annually. There were 4 California agricultural operations receiving a total of over a million dollars, exclusive of loans. Also over 50 operations collected in excess of $500,000. This was for the 1965 crop year. There is a better method than this of escalating these millions of dollars of public funds to immense corporate farming operations. The present federal laws with their loopholes should be tightened so that a total of $100,000 would be the top amount any yearly farming operation could collect in grants, subsidies, etc. This would protect every legitimate need.

When the mass of the American public learn what has been handed out to these immense farming operations in California and elsewhere in the nation, they will throw out of office the elected officials who were so negligent in their duty. They will also demand the removal from appointive office those without sufficient courage to stand up for decency.

CALIFORNIA AND NATIONAL DAIRY LEGISLATION

The California State Grange for 7 years fought for a Milk Pooling arrangement to adequately protect the individual dairy producer. Milk pooling is not a cure-all, but it is a step in the right direction. The governor signed AB 910 which is enabling legislation to permit the California Director of Agriculture to set up proper methods to institute a feasible system that will insure the California Dairy producer of his rightful share of the milk consumed within this state. This legislation was bitterly fought by some so called "Farm Organizations" certain processors and distributors. Its effectiveness hinges on the proper implementation of the bills provisions. We are watching this carefully and have high hopes of relieving the independent efficient dairymen of some almost interolable handicaps.

On the national scene, Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin introduced his Dairy Import Control bill in January 1967 but it was stalled by some back-stage maneuvering. Finally Secretary Freeman issued a directive, reducing the increasing flood of cheaper imported dairy products, so that there would be more chance for the domestic milk producers to share in the American market. This is another example of determined effort.

The constructive cotton legislation of 1966 culminating in the successful referendum among American cotton growers is being put into operation for the 1967 cotton harvest. This one dollar per bale deduction to be borne by the cotton producer will be used for wider research and advertising to promote expanded uses of cotton. Cotton is the world's most versatile fabric, but must use the technics of synthetic fibers to maintain its place in the world's markets.

Again the California State Grange along with Sister Grange cotton producing states and the help of the National Grange played an important part in this forward movement. As usual another so called "Farm Organization" tried to block the legislative action and later on used what influence they thought they had to negate the referendum. The referendum passed by two thirds majority.

There are many problems connected with cotton that will take more than advertising and research to settle. The entire system of support prices, acreage restrictions and other troublesome aspects must be ironed out. California cotton producers have no difficulty in marketing their superior product, but are limited by the demands of the remaining cotton producing states who by their sheer voting power have been able to incorporate certain restrictions which are to the disadvantage of California. Cotton is California's second largest cash crop, so it has a heavy influence on the economy of the state.

Most of the nation's present agricultural marketing orders and pro-rates were initiated by action of the California State Grange in the 1930's when California agricultural producers faced ruin. They stabilized a demoralized farm picture and have been the means of assisting producers to keep on as a going concern. Had the Grange done nothing more than this single contribution to the nation's agricultural economy it would have well earned its right to existance.

We urge the continued use of marketing agreements and eventually their proper use would alter the entire picture by enabling the individual producer through cooperation with his fellow producers to control in many ways the productions, marketing and price of his labor.

Much publicity has been given certain loud complaints by immense corporate farming interests that all regulations covering the use of water impounded by federal funds should be scrapped. These people are clever and have twisted the facts to arouse sympathy for their supposed plight.

President Theodore Roosevelt in 1902 made the statement that "He was protecting the large landholders from themselves" in placing limits on the amount of water any one operation could secure from federal water projects. There have been many changes since 1902, but the principles are the same. To-day, under California community property regulations, man and wife are entitled to the use of water for 320 acres from federal projects. In many California areas, 320 acres of rich irrigated land will return $100 per acre net. An annual net income of $32,000 should enable most California families to live in comfort, educate their children and enjoy most of the advantages of our modern, affluent society. It will not provide villas on the Mediterranean, private yachts, private hunting preserves, or private jet planes, but will suffice for the vast majority of California farmers. The character of the soil, climatic conditions and crops grown should be a yardstick to measure the maximum water needs of any given agricultural installation. It may be necessary to revamp some of our thinking on acreage limitations, but not to scrap wise regulations that have done more to contribute to the general welfare of Western America than any single expenditure of public funds. Congressional committees are already studying this feature and their report is expected within the next six months. They will in all probability recommend an increase in the maximum acreage allotment. We believe a sensible upward revision will be acceptable to most of the agricultural interests of the nation. The Grange will fight with all its vigor both in California and nationally, to maintain federal control over the distribution of water impounded by the people of the United States. The vast majority do not want immense landholders to pre-empt the major portion of this water.

The same vexing labor problems confront California agriculture to-day. When there is a shortage of domestic labor for agricultural needs, producers should have the opportunity of securing farm labor from our neighbor Mexico. Perishable crops do not wait on the deliberations of people with no personal knowledge of California agriculture—they are with us and must be taken care of immediately to be of any value. California has too long been the victim of discrimination in arbitrarily higher farm labor rates than states employing imported labor forces for the same crops. This is unfair and there should be a national minimum wage for both domestic and imported farm labor. We understand that some states now pay a top wage of 75c an hour for general farm labor while our California farmers are compelled by federal edict to pay as high as $1.60 per hour for the same services.

In the poultry meat industry, most of the people in areas who brood the millions of fryers and broilers each year receive an income averaging $20.00 per week. The same is true of the large egg laying complexes now being installed in many southern states. In California it is necessary to pay a minimum of at least $300 per month for the same general services. One can readily see that 70% of the dressed poultry sold in California markets come from outside this state. Today California produces more eggs than any of the states, but if we are compelled to pay wages more than double of the general scale in other sections, we may find ourselves with 70% of the eggs consumed within California coming from outside the state. This will be another serious economic loss. California with the highest land values, highest water rates, highest agricultural taxes, highest transportation costs, highest wage scale needs relief in the area of wages. A national minimum wage for agriculture would tend to eliminate some of the inequalities now forced on California agricultural producers. We firmly believe the future expansion of California agriculture will come only when California agricultural producers are more nearly on an equal level as far as farm labor wages are concerned.

Agriculture labor by its very nature, must remain largely on a part time basis. It is difficult to invest large sums in permanent housing with present building costs, taxes, upkeep, etc. for a few weeks or months occupancy. Modern society demands all the major improvements for temporary migrant labor. Possibly, the most feasible method is for the counties to arrange for suitable seasonal accommodations placed near to their areas of use. These could be built for one purpose, to house necessary seasonal labor forces. They can be clean, efficient and rented for a nominal sum. Many counties have already made great strides in providing for suitable shelter for farm labor. Possibly an arrangement could be made with the various counties to have part of the maintenance cost absorbed by the farm operations who employ labor occupying the temporary homes. This would be fair and the general taxpayers would not be forced to contribute 100% of the cost, to benefit only a segment of our population.

California fruit producers are vulnerable to any change in the import regulations of European and other nations and as stated earlier in this message, by the unethical practices of some governments in subsidizing exports of their fruit products which compete in the world markets with California items. The portion of California canned fruits that make up the export portion of the total output means in many instances the survival of the California Fruit Canning Industry. California then has a definite stake in foreign trade. With the present preliminary set-up of the European Common Market, many road blocks seem to be leveled against American exports of various agricultural products. This should be boldly fought by our United States Department of Agriculture, United States State Department and the Department of Commerce. The California State Grange keeps this issue alive with the National Grange as well as our legislative representatives in Washington D.C. The well being of a considerable portion of California agriculture, the fruit canning industry, and all the various brackets of industry this fruit industry supports, are wrapped up in the continued uninterrupted export markets.

CONSERVATION

The California State Grange in its preamble to the constitution reads in part, "The Rivers, Lakes, Streams, Beaches and Mountain fastnesses of California belong to the people and should be held by them in perpetuity." This wise document foresaw the future. With close to 20 million people now in California and prospects of 20 million more in 25 years, we must look carefully to vital areas for water, beaches, parks and wild areas. Once the natural resources are depleted or thoughtlessly bartered away, they can never be regained.

The California State Grange is proud of its record in wisely championing the building of the many federal water storage dams within California. It is primarily responsible today for California's pre-eminent position as the leading agricultural state. The low cost of federal water coupled with a wise power revenue plan is one of the benefits of wise planning. Despite opposition by those who should have known better, these installations still stand as a monument to courage and foresight.

During the past few years, regrettably, in the federal government, there has been a tendency to erode the wise provisions and we see the gradual evasions of the letter of the law. The laws as they now stand should be rigidly enforced until amended. If they are unduly restrictive there's a normal way to have them changed by congressional action and not by public servants who sometimes forget their obligations.

California is financing a gigantic state water plan and water is expected to flow into southern California within the next few years. It is tragic to recount that during the formation of the state water plans, much mis-information was given. The residents south of the Tehachapis were told there would be ample water for their farms and fields. They did not tell the people the first year's estimate of the cost of this state water, after being lifted over the mountains would be $237 per acre foot and the first ten years average cost would be $112.50 per acre foot. Then after 20 years, the cost would be hopefully around $50 per acre foot. Just what type of agriculture can pay these prices for irrigation water! This water can be used only for industrial and domestic purposes.

The California State Grange in 1959 fought for recognition of de-salted sea water as a means of providing supplemental domestic and industrial water for parts of California. Finally the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California sparked a plan that provides for a de-salting plant capable of supplying the domestic and industrial water needs of a city the size of San Francisco and the conservation part of this, the same heat that de-salts the water provides electric energy, thus bringing down the cost of the de-salted water. This is the same general plan conservation, advocated by the Grange for 95 years. The federal government through the Atomic Energy Commission will provide a generous grant. This makes a modern day miracle come to life. A series of 10 similar plants off the southern California coast would practically eliminate the need for drawing on further supplies of northern California water. This would release water close to its source of California origin that could be used beneficially for agricultural needs at a price farm operations could afford. This is sound reasoning and we congratulate the MWD on its modern and wise decision.

Most observers see literally the "Handwriting on the Wall" as far as Colorado River water for California is concerned. The proposed dams on this river will over-draw on the flow to maintain anywhere near a satisfactory level in any of the installations. Political maneuvers, instead of a just adherence to solemn agreements made in previous years will rule.

Water is California's most precious asset and wise long range plans by all interested agencies will conserve the available sources for their most beneficial use.

Our neighboring northern states, Oregon, Washington and Idaho seem determined that no water from their region will enter California. We recognize and admire their staunch support for their communities but they may be little too cautious. Right now several million acre feet of Columbia River water flows annually into the Pacific Ocean. This may be needed by the Northwest in the far future, but we feel that a pipe line, partially on the ocean floor level and partially above ground could be built, to siphon this surplus water down the Pacific coast where it could be gainfully used in California. Competent engineers have declared it feasible. The intake could be placed somewhere near the mouth of the Columbia River, so that it would not interfere with navigation and also the water that was ready to flow into the Pacific Ocean would rob no one in the northwest. If the flow was not available, then no water would be siphoned into the pipe line. This seems quite simple but congressional representatives from that area in Washington D.C. are loud in their opposition.

Recent events surrounding the give away in federal generated power to private utilities has aroused indignation by thinking citizens. Power produced by federal funds should be sold first to preference customers, such as utility districts, cities, state and federal government installations. Then if there's a surplus, it can be sold on contract to the private utilities.

This is supposed to be the program of the federal government, but since 1964 the U.S. Interior Department has made a complete about face and outrageously violated every concept of sound government practice.

There should have been at least one federally constructed high-voltage power line from the California-Oregon border deep in this state. Instead a private utility was given this privilege and with a 40 year contract that prevents any additional federal produced power to be sold directly from the federal government, unless it passes through the transmission facilities of the private utilities. This is so shameful that the President of the United States should be called upon to answer personally for this scheme. It is solely the responsibility of the chief executive and in allowing Secretary of Interior Udall to sign this one-sided document. But he has affronted the sense of decency of all public spirited citizens. We have no quarrel with private utilities—they have their proper place in our economy. But when the federal government spends several hundred millions of dollars in power generating facilities and turns the California consumption and transmission over to private utilities, it violates every sense of right.

Congressman John Moss made a vigorous fight to maintain some sense of honor in this shady deal and is now sponsoring a movement to review by congressional action, these high-handed proceedings. It is a tragic violation of public confidence. In June 1964 during the Senate hearings before Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, a member of the Bureau of Reclamation from Sacramento was on hand in Washington D.C. purportedly to testify. This man was violently opposed to the scheme to divert federal power to the private utilities and for this reason was ordered not to go to the Senate committee hearing. This gag rule was in opposition to every sense of decency. This demonstrates how subservient certain agencies in our federal government have become to private utilities.

PUBLIC PARKS, RECREATION AND BEACHES

With California's present 19 million inhabitants, areas for public recreation are already crowded to the limit. With the prospect of 20 million more citizens in the next 25 years, it is mandatory that adequate planning for future recreational needs occupy the minds of our citizens and government bodies. Too many areas along the wide stretch of the Pacific Ocean, from the Oregon border to the Mexican line, have signs reading "Private Beach, Keep Out." Today we should profit by the tragic lack of foresight. Make bold plans to secure for the use of all the citizens of California the remaining beach fronts that are available. The same is true of the mountain areas still available for public use.

The Grange endorses the movement that whenever possible, steps be taken to provide additional recreational areas and parks, but not solely at the expense of already producing farm lands that in some sections provide the major means of tax bases. There are many sites in California still available that do not remove valuable agricultural and grazing lands from productive use and necessary tax rolls.

The debates over the proposed Redwood National Parks in Del Norte and Humboldt counties still rage. The California State Grange in sympathy with the majority of the residents of the redwood area, fights to maintain an economy founded on lumbering. We believe that with proper cooperation by private lumber firms, local agencies, State of California and the federal government, a workable plan can be developed. This should preserve without doubt for all time the priceless asset of the redwoods. We believe it possible, by strict logging regulations, to preserve the present logging industry which will continue to furnish jobs and revenue. Also every doubtful practice that tends to destroy watersheds or cause stream pollution and other harmful practices should be prohibited. Corrective legislation can be adopted both at the county, state and national level to force the replanting in the similar area of suitable young trees for every tree cut. It is sensible to regard the forests as a crop, to be wisely harvested and the irreplaceable specimens preserved. We believe there are enough sober minded citizens charged with this assignment to agree on suitable solutions.

WATER, AIR AND SOIL POLLUTION

Lack of planning, indifference and wilful neglect on the part of our citizens, public officials and certain segments of industry have turned some of our former beauty spots into cesspools. An air trip over San Francisco Bay and other once beautiful areas shows disfiguration almost beyond human comprehension. These natural beauty spots are irreplaceable and it is our first duty to keep them clean and usable. Travelling throughout the entire length of California shows the increasing appearance of industrial smog blighting our cities and farmlands. This injurious pollution can be drastically reduced. When an aroused public opinion demands action, our somewhat timid public servants may take heed.

The responsibility for cleanliness along our highways, beaches and parks is the duty of every citizen. Motorists seem to be the most striking example of carelessness. Every mile of California's scenic highways through the mountains is marred by litter carelessly thrown by the wayside. Most of the offenders are sober citizens, and we doubt if they would desecrate their own homes and surroundings with such utter disregard. Cleanliness should start with each motorist and visitor. When there is a wide awakening of the damage by litter spreading, we will begin to make progress.

The automobile and oil industries certainly should spend some of the billions they amass each year from the American public in an intensive research program toward the elimination of the bulk of the pollution caused by exhaust fumes of motor cars. Unless they act as they should, as shrewd business principles seem to demand, they may find themselves saddled with restrictive legislation barring all internal combustion engines within crowded metropolitan centers. In addition, different forms of energy may be utilized that will eliminate the use of gasoline propelled vehicles in our cities.

TRANSPORTATION

Our modern complex civilization would come to an abrupt halt without adequate transportation. Rail, air, water, highway and underground pipe line systems are all delicately patterned to our modern way of life. Every single act of business depends on a large measure of safe, rapid and uninterrupted transportation.

Each day witnesses the major rail lines petitioning to provide. Thousands mourn the restriction of rail passenger service, but when the public will not patronize even the limited facilities available, then there is some measure of reasonableness in the carriers wishing to further curtail passenger schedules. As long as there is need for rail passenger service, it should be provided, but within reason. Most California communities can be reached by frequent bus service which provides transportation for those unable to provide their own independent motor car use. For those in a hurry, there is convenient air service to most metropolitan centers.

Recent applications of various railroad systems to consolidate have been voiced in the press for some months. Many of them may be in the public interest. Foremost though, is the interests of consumers along with those who are employed by these lines. In some instances, there can be savings in operation and the removal of useless duplication of services. However, in so doing, let us keep an adequate system of competition for service that will make the competing rail lines keep on their toes in service, rates and public convenience. To arbitrarily remove all vestige of rail competition by unwise consolidations would put the country's rail transportation in a straight jacket and might be ruinous in time of a national or international emergency. We should keep this fully in mind and oppose any acts that will remove all phases of competition in rail transportation.

Many inequities in freight rate schedules have developed and we urge our members to take an active part in restoring proper balances in freight rates within this state and on interstate commodities. Many freight rate structures within California are so far out of line that it almost precludes any interchanges of commodities within this state. Unwieldy and outmoded methods of labor, work rules, and all other operating practices that are wasteful and uneconomic, should be thrown out, in order that our real lines can properly hold up their end with adequate service, rates and safety.

Every California agricultural producer is vitally interested in adequate rail rates plus proper service in order that his products may reach the consuming markets which in many instances require the longest rail hauls of any area in the United States. Only by maintaining proper rail rates can millions of dollars of California products of the soil be assured of a continuing market.

Recent testimony before state boards have shown that a reduction in freight rates on various grains, concentrates from the major producing areas in the mid-west to California would result in increasing local production of beef, lamb, hogs, poultry meat and turkey meat, by allowing the California producer to, in some measure, meet competition for the local market in lower feed producing costs which in many instances is 60% of the total production cost. A proper adjustment in freight rates would result in increased production of the above-named products, additional revenue to the rail lines through increased tonnage, increasing millions of dollars in added wealth to California's agricultural producing areas, and provide additional millions in wages to the processors and transportation facilities hauling these additional products to California and other Markets.

TRUCK TRANSPORTATION

California has over 11 million registered motor vehicles using its highways, the largest total of any of the states and no doubt put to fuller use than in any section of the world.

Funds available for needed improvement and expansion of highways is always behind the actual demand for services and there is a constant tug of war between different localities for a proper share of highway funds. Great care must be exercised by highway officials, both federal, state, county and local to see that a proper balance is maintained in adequate allocation of highway funds and improvements. A balanced system of highway facilities is desperately needed and the over-all benefits of the entire state should be considered as the first highway need.

Cooperation between rail lines and commercial truck carriers should be encouraged, that tonnage can be adequately handled by the rail lines and can be moved over their facilities to relieve the congestion on the highways. Traffic that is necessary for truck transportation, will always be handled by motor carriers.

Careful attention should be given to maximum weight of loads on public highways, widths, lengths and heights of motor vehicles so that the interests of the general public will be protected. No restrictive measures should penalize any legitimate use of highway transportation, neither should unfair nor unsound competition be countenanced.

GASOLINE AND MOTOR FUEL TAXES

Legislation embodied in assembly bills 2092 and 1292; approved by the assembly during the 1967 general session would have diverted 1c per gallon gas and motor fuel taxes to financing mass transportation in the Bay and Los Angeles metropolitan areas. The remaining areas would have been privileged to use the funds for highway use as they saw fit. Both bills were chloroformed in the Senate Transportation committee.

This issue must be faced squarely. The Grange and millions of other Californians have been firm in their stand that gasoline taxes collected from motorists should be used for highways only. If there is one variation, each year will see new legislation introduced that could in time erode the major portion of these motor fuel taxes. The remainder would have to be made up from state, county and local direct tax funds. This is fundamental and will be bitterly fought from now on in our legislative halls. The same legislation will be introduced again in 1968 and with the present representation in the Assembly, no doubt will be acted on favorably. Just what will happen in the Senate is debatable. There may be a reshuffling of the committee chairmen and assignments in the 1968 session and major changes in the present makeup of the Senate Transportation committee might make a difference in reporting this kind of legislation to the Senate floor. There would be a major battle and with the present representation in the California State Senate, the outcome is doubtful.

Every thinking citizen realizes that there must be something done to remedy the almost impossible traffic problems in the major California centers of population. The Bay area is going ahead with its mass transportation system, but like all public ventures of this kind, was woefully underestimated and the taxpayers are looking for outside sources of revenue to complete the project. We believe these areas should finance their mass transportation problems within their immediate boundaries.

ROUTING OF HIGHWAYS

California is paying the penalty for ill considered and arbitrary routing of freeways and highways through some of the finest agricultural and scenic lands on the globe. Modern society demands fast, economical transportation but the defacement of some areas is a tragedy. Millions are spent in condemning and purchasing rights-of-way where studied action could route some of these freeways with little mileage addition to areas with little or no damage to existing installations. Usually it is accomplished by absentee direction. We believe more time should be spent by responsible officials in reviewing the proposed routing before millions of dollars worth of irreplaceable agricultural land, scenic and historical areas are ruined.

Some areas of California depend on their economic life through proper highway transportation. They cannot exist in this modern age with outmoded two-lane highways through scenic areas. With proper advance planning, most of these scenic treasures can be saved and in addition, modern highways can connect these areas with the rest of the state. In the metropolitan areas we see evidence of highway butchery. They are an affront to civilization and could have reduced their ugliness by sensible advance planning.

Our highways should conform to a pattern of reason always with the idea of preserving needed agricultural and scenic land.

In California's thousand mile length, many of our vital highway arteries parallel rail lines. The rail lines can handle many times their present tonnage and we see in the not too distant future, drastic action needed in routing via the rail lines traffic that can be handled by them to advantage. This will be necessary because there will simply not be sufficient public funds nor will there be room for continued unlimited expansion of freeways and highways. Then the rail lines at least in California will handle some of the increased traffic and the necessary freight traffic will be handled by the trucks. Thus we will have a fully co-ordinated system of rail and highway transportation, supplemented by underground pipe line facilities.

ASSESSMENT OF FARM LAND

California possibly faces the most serious agricultural land tax difficulties of any of the States. Most tax laws were designed to a slow growth with little change in the pattern of farm lands. California with an increase of almost 10 million people in 15 years, makes this assumption obsolete. Most taxing bodies, confronted with inflation, increased demands for services and an increasing total of tax exempt lands, have taken the most convenient and indefensible source of revenue, increased assessment of farm lands. Agricultural land can pay taxes only on the ability of the land to produce sufficient revenue to withstand such onslaughts. Over-ambitious subdividers, speculators and those interested in hedging with rural land purchases as a dodge against payment of income taxes have also contributed to the picture.

There must be some form of equitable assessment of farm lands used exclusively and honestly for agricultural purposes if California is to continue to lead the nation in agricultural output.

The Grange in previous years has endorsed legislation that would permit those who could prove their active pursuit of agriculture for a previous two year period, would sign a tentative assessment agreement with their Assessor that they would keep their entire land in agricultural production for a period of years. During the life of this tentative assessment agreement, they would be assessed only on the agricultural output and agricultural potential of the land. We believe most assessors would be reasonable in their assessment under this basis. If during the life of the tentative assessment agreement the owner diverted, or sold any or part of the land for purposes other than agricultural use, then the assessor would be obliged to make a re-appraisal of the entire land, commencing with the signing of the tentative assessment agreement, and make the necessary addition to the assessment rolls. This would protect bona-fide farming operations, and would be a deterrent to land speculators who would in many instances buy large tracts of land. They'd use the umbrella of agricultural assessment until they thought the time was ripe to exploit their purchase.

Another feature of Constitutional Amendment #3 adopted at the 1966 Legislative session, was the so called "Wild Lands" preserves. This portion of granting tax relief to owners of thousands of acres of privately so called "Open Space Land" could mean a tax break that would enable the owners to hide under low assessments for a period of years until they were ready to develop or sub-divide their holdings. This could be another addition to the already overcrowded tax exempt status in California.

The Committee consisting of Assemblymen and Senators are to study the whole gamut of Proposition #3 and report to the 1968 general Legislative Session.

In this interim period, we also expect the California State Grange Tax Study Committee to report with pertinent information and recommendations for a sound tax plan that will permit agriculture, residential property as well as business to exist in close cooperation. The task is heavy, but we have confidence in this committee and the sound reasoning of our delegate body.

The surest way to tax reform is to prevent further escalation of public spending. The State of California is not alone in fiscal irresponsibility, it rests with every city, district, county and national phase of our life. The rapid increase in California's population should in itself have been sufficient to cover most of the increased cost of government. The new arrivals by their tax contributions should have taken up the slack in additional expenditures. However, with runaway inflation, public demands for every kind of services, has caused such a sharp upturn in public spending that unless some check rein is adopted in the immediate future, this nation faces financial chaos. This is not idle talk, it is stark reality. We must take stock of our ability to pay for these increasing public expenditures if we are to expand as a nation. The Federal government should set the example by getting rid of all its schemes for re-making the world. First we should stop unnecessary public spending in order to finance the billions needed to conduct the undeclared war in Asia. Until this is out of the way, we should dismiss all public spending not entirely necessary for the day to day conduct of our Federal housekeeping. Billions already spent to relieve poverty, educate the masses and all the other facets of public services have not changed the picture. When the general public know the facts and have the courage to stand up to their elected representatives with a demand to cut expenditures, we will return to sanity in public affairs.

FOREIGN AID

The billions distributed by the benevolent arm of the United States government on a global basis since World War II is being critically studied by thinking members of Congress. We make this observation, many nations the recipients of our millions in gifts, loans, grants, etc., have been bitter in denouncing the United States as imperialists, and other forms of abuse. We suggest that they refuse additional financial aid from us and seek aid from the sources they seem to admire. We believe there should be a strict reappraisal of all forms of billions in expenditure for foreign aid projects and funds not to be used by nations supporting doctrines that if put into effect on a world-wide basis, would remove from the scene our present form of government.

There are many inequalities in our own land, we face the fact there are millions living in sub-standard housing, living on wages that are far below subsistence level, children without sufficient nourishment to absorb necessary education, many of our senior citizens barely existing. These can be eliminated by private as well as public action. Witness the recent announcements of the major insurance concerns in advancing 1 billion dollars to build low rent housing in concentrated areas. This is a real beginning and we look for assistance to come from private capital in many other forms of self-help. We must first build self-reliance on millions of our people—teach them to be willing to work to enjoy the advantages this nation affords.

EDUCATION

The Grange was formed primarily to stimulate educational and recreational leadership among our people. An educated electorate is the best way to improve national life. California has faced almost insurmountable problems in education due to the rapid increase in population. The school tax burden has become so alarming that various Legislative stop-gaps have been hastily approved, but they do not meet the situation.

The issue of forced consolidation of California School Districts has been somewhat slowed and while in some cases it might be justified, we believe the overwhelming majority of school districts have the necessary brain power and public spirited citizens to preside over their own educational needs. Huge area and population numbers do not necessarily mean efficiency. In many cases they have just the opposite effect. They tend to centralize jurisdiction in far away places, and little or no heed is paid to the needs of the smaller populated districts within their own fold.

The future of this nation and the world in a large measure depends on what is done in the formative years of education in the schools of the United States. Proper leadership is made by adequate instruction in the elementary grades, so that students entering high school will absorb the subjects necessary and then go on to institutions of higher learning, fully equipped with basic knowledge.

We believe one of the major causes of high school drop-outs (not listed by the experts) is the lack of fundamental training in the elementary grades in the very essence of knowledge. We mean the ability for the high school entrant to read intelligently, write legibly, spell correctly, have a working knowledge of rudimentary English, to be able to cope with simple mathematics and to have a background in essential facts of American history. It is folly to try to compare present day requirements with those of 50 years ago, but the student in elementary school still needs them, many will fall by the wayside and become dropouts in high school. This is not an impossible goal to attain. It means proper attention by all the elementary school boards in California to demand that these elementary subjects be part of our educational system. There is no short cut to learning. Following a clearly defined pattern and modern methods should be encouraged, but not at the expense of rudimentary knowledge.

The Grange has long insisted on these wise provisions in elementary education and our members should use every effort to see they are implemented in their areas.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

The Grange has also consistently endorsed for years, the preparation of school room plans on a state-wide basis that would be available to districts that wish to conserve their educational funds with standard plans. In a state one thousand miles long, with every scale of local climate, one set of plans would be useless. Those practical for semi-tropic areas would be hopelessly inadequate in the mountain areas with severe winters, snow and ice. There could be standardized plans for different areas and we believe it would save millions of dollars in architects' fees, etc. The wealthier districts would still be free to explore all the latest innovations in school architecture. Those that were practical would soon find favor over the entire state-wide area.

AGRICULTURAL COURSES IN HIGH SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

The science of agriculture is for the future of mankind. With warnings by scientists that 25 years ahead there will be insufficient food for the billions of humans by present standards of production, it should spur efforts by educational and governmental officials to expand every means of research into more adequate methods of agricultural production. Marked as has been our progress in soil productivity, we have not yet scratched the surface in more advanced methods of agricultural output.

California agriculture must keep abreast of the times. Every citizen admits we need instruction in the Arts and Sciences just as much as in Agriculture. Man must eat and the nation or combination of nations that find the answer to feeding the additional billions on earth 25 years ahead will be the nations dominating the globe. If we are farsighted enough to provide the essential tools for our future leaders by giving them suitable schools to encourage advanced methods of farming, then this nation will predominate.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Automation and mechanization in all forms of business endeavor as well as agriculture demand intensive training for most worthwhile positions in our modern, sophisticated world. Every young man and woman should have the opportunity to continue on with adequate high school and college training. Students who show willingness to study should have access to loans for purely educational purposes, so they can take their proper place in society on graduation. Then they should repay these loans on an amortized basis, so as to provide funds for future students needing the same assistance. This plan has been followed on a much smaller scale by the California State Grange for a number of years. It has been the means of furthering the education of hundreds of our young members. This same method can be incorporated in our public education program, always with proper safeguards.

Private institutions of higher learning will always continue their contribution to the education life of this nation. There is room for all types of education in this advancing civilization.

SAFETY

In spite of safety crusades, the home seems to be the major source of deaths and serious injuries from preventable casualties. Add to this the senseless carnage on the highways and you have a picture that is an indictment of modern civilization. We drive modern motor cars that can travel 100 miles per hour and put them in the hands of irresponsible operators which make them lethal weapons on the highways.

The recently enacted California legislation affecting drunken driving has shown some sobering effect, but already attempts are being made to water it down, so that drunken drivers can repeat their offenses on the highways. We hope the major portion of California's citizens will stand fast against any weakening of the present statutes—in fact they should be strengthened instead of diluted.

A return to simple courtesy by every motorist would in all probability reduce accidents 50%. Insurance carriers should take the lead in demanding that automobile manufacturers provide every reasonable device that will reduce the hazards when accidents occur. Insurance carriers simply increase their rates as the total paid out for accidents increases each year. The point of no return in insurance rates may be fast approaching and there will be demands from many quarters for government financed insurance. We suggest the insurance industry as a whole inaugurate a program of information and safety for their own self interest.

It is the mark of a good Grange member to remove all causes of potential accidents in their homes, equipment sheds and on the highways.

PESTICIDES AND HERBICIDES

California maintains its over $3,000,000,000 annual agricultural output largely through judicious use of proper pest controls. Without them, as a nation, we would be hard pressed to even feed our own 195,000,000 people, and have billions in left over food and fibre each year for export.

Great strides have been made in promoting the use of less toxic controls for successful crop production, but we must make still further progress. Misguided people in the large centers of population are easy prey for uninformed emotional people who do not understand the complex problems of modern agriculture. We in agriculture though, have a duty to put our own house in order and demand further research into chemical fields that provide proper controls over insects, and that will also be harmless to human and animal life. This can be done and we need the active help of our gigantic agricultural chemical industry, our agricultural schools, together with the cooperation and financial help of each state and the United States Department of Agriculture, to solve these mounting problems.

The Grange will assist whenever possible in promoting the marketing of successful pesticides that are within the financial reach of agricultural producers and will also reduce toxic dangers.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

California suffered a tragic loss when Brother Carle Fiedler, Director of Youth Activities, passed away in December 1966. Brother Fiedler established a record that will be difficult to exceed. At the 1967 spring Youth Conference at California Polytechnic College Campus in San Luis Obispo, Brother Duane Upson chairmanned the group with signal success.

The future leaders of the Grange as well as the nation are in the hands of today's youth. Proper recognition of their talents, ambitions and exuberance will perpetuate the second century of this organization. The California State Grange intends to promote to its full vigor, the expansion of all activities that tend to attract young minds.

YOUNG FARMERS OF AMERICA

This fine group of young men and women together with their growing families has long been encouraged by the Grange. This organization fills a long needed want for this group and each year we make room at our annual session for their presentation. We salute the Young Farmers of America by joining hands with them in demanding the opportunity for them to continue on in Agriculture as a vital part of our American Way of Life.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

It's a tradition in California Grange circles that each year we honor the Future Farmers of America by devoting a portion of our program to welcome their leaders at each State Session. This year Joe E. Martinez, the current FFA President, will speak on the evening devoted to Youth Activities.

4-H ACTIVITIES

This valuable arm of future agricultural leaders has always been recognized by our Granges and has general support throughout the State. Many of our Grange Halls welcome the 4-H Groups to meet within their walls and thus encourage to greater strides, the future leaders in Agricultural and civic affairs.

COMMUNITY PROGRESS SERVICES

The final National Grange Community Progress as we have observed during the past years came to a conclusion with the reports ending August 1, 1967. California was fortunate to have one of the top 10 Granges with projects to be considered in the National Grange judging finals — the results to be announced at the Centennial Session in Syracuse during November 1967.

Congratulations to the California Granges filing final reports. Participating Granges have accomplished enviable records in promoting the welfare of their communities by their interest in Civic Affairs.

It is reasonable to expect that an entirely new concept of Community Progress projects will be formulated at the coming National Centennial Session.

INSURANCE

Modern business and modern life would not move in its rapid orbit without adequate insurance protection. The Grange has long recognized this necessity and accordingly has provided a wide variety of coverage for its members:

GRANGE INSURANCE ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA

This Association, originally chartered by the State of California in 1916, has during its 51 years of valuable life, saved thousands of dollars to its Grange member policyholders. The Association has its own headquarters building at 925 Howe Avenue in Sacramento.

GRANGE INSURANCE ASSOCIATION OF SEATTLE

This Association, owned and operated by Grange members, writes general, automobile and many varied lines of insurance in 7 Western Grange States. Like our Grange Insurance Association of California, limits its protection to Grange members. It has demonstrated its usefulness in thousands of dollars savings yearly in premiums to our members. It has also shown marked efficiency in the prompt settlement of claims. It also has its general California headquarters in the Grange Insurance Association Building at 925 Howe Avenue in Sacramento.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION COVERAGE

Through agreement with the Truck Insurance Exchange, California Grange members employing agricultural labor have a strong policy. The last year's operations returned a cash dividend of 35% of the premiums, and bids fair to return the same measure of dividends in the current years operations.

AUTOMOBILE, CASUALTY AND GENERAL INSURANCE

Over the years the membership in California have availed themselves of the policies offered by the Farmers Insurance Group. This wide coverage is varied and services to our members over the years has been outstanding.

CALIFORNIA BLUE SHIELD COVERAGE

(Formerly written under CPS)

Originally adopted in 1946 under the CPS heading, this hospital and surgical coverage has protected thousands of our California members. A new plan has just been announced, which was detailed in the Sept. 15, 1967 Issue of the California Grange News. This has many new protective features, also drastically reduced rates to those between 19 and 64 years of age. There are also many added features for our members 65 years of age and older who hold Federal Medicare protection.

COMMERCIAL INSURANCE CO. — HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL PLAN

The Commercial Insurance Plan has been used by thousands of our members with protection up to $5000.00 for hospitalization, surgery and affiliated coverage. It is considered one of the most liberal hospitalization and surgical policies now in existence. California members have already received considerably more than 1 million dollars in benefits.

California members now have the choice of two major hospital and surgical plans, The California Blue Shield (formerly CPS), and the Commercial Insurance Co. protection plan.

CALIFORNIA GRANGE NEWS

Like the California State Grange Youth Committee with their loss of Brother Carle Fiedler, the California Grange News suffered the loss of Brother Craig Hazlewood, business manager of the News for many years. Craig is mourned by thousands of devoted readers of the Grange News, and his genial, outgoing personality amongst the entire publishing fraternity will be missed.

Fortunately Brother Jack Berry, business manager of the News, has already made for himself an outstanding record for shrewd, knowledgeable reporting and keen business sense.

The California Grange News, known as the voice of California Agriculture, continues to improve its position as the outstanding agricultural publication in California. Its wide coverage and acceptance by public agencies is proof of its leadership.

The California Grange News stimulates interest in all Grange activities throughout the thousand mile length of California. An added feature is the most efficient conduct of the Grange News Tour Department which delights the membership with new discoveries in the art of travel and fellowship.

GRANGE CREDIT UNIONS

California still maintains its pre-eminent position as the Grange state having the most active Grange Credit Unions within its borders. This wise and practical sponsorship by the Grange in California has made their operations a strong right arm of the Grange.

They provide adequate financing where the need arises as well as a sound basis for investments through insurance of those investing in shares in these valuable aids.

The State Grange Credit Union Committee, under the chairmanship of Brother Jakob Hullen provides wise counsel and leadership for the remaining members of his committee.

There are two types of Grange sponsored Credit Unions within California, the Federal Chartered and the California State Chartered being about equally divided among the total of 40 Grange Sponsored Credit Unions.

GRANGER'S BUSINESS ORGANIZATION

This supply system of the Grange in California justified in long record of achievement in continued money-savings for petroleum products, wire, fencing, pipe, roofing and most all necessities for modern farm and home equipment. This valuable tool of the membership has returned in excess of 1 million dollars to members in savings.

Business Manager Brother Paige Harper continues to efficiently direct the affairs of the GBO, and with his able staff will cheerfully give full information to all interested members. The offices and portion of the supply warehouses are located on the Grange Triangle in Sacramento at 3823 V Street.

In addition, the home appliance division, together with household equipment, watches, jewelry, and many additional items, offer a complete vista of money-saving, quality necessities that each member of the Grange in California can enjoy.

IN MEMORIAM

This year will be significant in our long custom of reverence to the memory of our departed members for the tribute to distinguished leaders who have gone on to a higher life.

Most of the benefits we enjoy today came from the labors and foresight of those who labored in order that we may enjoy their fruits today. This simple token of love and remembrance is ample indication of the strengths and virility of our Order. So long as we cherish the memory of those whose diligence allows us the privilege of gathering together, this Order of Patrons of Husbandry will endure.

JUNIOR GRANGES

Junior Granges provide a means of expanding Grange Philosophy where it is urgently needed. The accomplishments of these youngsters is amazing to those who witness their activities along with their guidance in paths of American citizenship. They form a fountain for future Grange membership and we urge each of our Subordinate Granges to explore the advantages of a Junior Grange under their sponsorship. The day each California Subordinate Grange has a working Junior Grange, we will be well on the road toward total Grange accomplishment.

During the period between October 1, 1966 and September 30, 1967, there were 4 Junior Granges organized or re-organized as follows:

Bachelor Valley # 177 by James True - 1/24/67

Millville #17 by Eve Rowe - Re-organized 3/10/67

Wyandotte #178 by Leonard Hendricks - 5/6/67

Fonbloom #179 by Ulyuss Rose - 7/1/67

NATIONAL GRANGE CENTENNIAL

Syracuse, New York will culminate the celebration of Grange Centennial year when the National Session opens in November 1967. One hundred years of progress sets the stage for the second century of achievement.

Many hundreds of California Patrons will be on hand to witness this historic occasion and it promises to be a celebration of dignity, optimism and enlightenment.

GRANGE HALL DEDICATIONS

Four California Subordinate Granges dedicated their halls since our October 1966 Session in Stockton.

Welcome Grange, No. 791, Napa County, October 9, 1966

Konocti Grange No. 755, Lake County, April 2, 1967

Indian Valley Grange No. 493, June 25, 1967

Lucerne Valley Grange No. 673, July 9, 1967

A Formal Grange Hall dedication is a milestone in the progress of every Grange, and usually is the focal point for more concentrated efforts in membership, community service and general well being of the Order. The Grange Hall in each community becomes the center for the worthwhile events in the life of the area. We congratulate the Granges who were fortunate enough to dedicate their places of meeting.

NEW GRANGES

Wheatland Grange No. 811, organized by Deputy Brother Homer Stevens of Yuba County on February 16, 1967, is the latest addition to the Grange family in California. Wheatland is the center of a thriving agricultural and business community in Southern Yuba County and fills a long needed want for the community. Welcome to Wheatland Grange.

HOME ECONOMICS COMMITTEE

Impartial observers have many times credited the Home Economics Committee arrangement of the California State Grange to be one of the most efficiently organized group of this nature within the Grange.

The Home Economics Committee embraces practically every phase of philanthropic, instructive, educational and household endeavor we consider necessary for the improvement of the American home.

In talking of progress, the Home Economics Committee under the able leadership of Sister Gladys True has re-imbursed the California State Grange in full for the printing of 30,000 Grange Cook Books. In addition they have earmarked the first $11,000.00 above the printing cost to the State Grange for the furnishings and landscaping of the new headquarters building. The remaining funds from the sale of these cook books will find their way to some constructive Grange outlet.

Below is a condensed summary of just a portion of the financial activities of the HEC on a statewide basis, in addition to their contribution to the funds from the sales of Grange Cook Books. It's quite impressive:

Sister True, ably assisted by her 11 district HEC Committee heads, kept close contact with the entire membership throughout the State and encourages worthwhile community as well as home activities.

The influence of the HEC over this thousand mile length of California is tremendous and the interest aroused at the various District meetings held at regular intervals in all 11 Districts show the increasing attention given to the needs of the individual Granges as well as outside projects needing the assistance and active support of the HEC.

The HEC has kept alive the Grange Student Loan Fund, which has assisted and is continuing to help members in completing their education. This is a revolving fund and is repaid by the recipients when they are in gainful occupation.

This is just one of hundreds of similar projects which keep the HEC of the California State Grange the outstanding association it continues to be.

Greater strides in the year ahead are planned by Sister True and she has the strength and determination of the combined efforts of the sisters of the entire membership in California.

NATIONAL WELFARE

The spirit of unrest prevailing on a global basis threatens the entire fabric of civilization. Within our national borders we have the appalling spectacle of the senseless burning of hundreds of millions of dollars of private and public property; robbing, plunder, beatings, mob violence and actual murder. It is almost unbelievable in this supposedly enlightened age.

There are many shocking inequalities in our national life, but this is no justification for the meek acceptance of anarchy by some spineless public officials.

Laws should be enforced with strict impartiality and when murder, arson and rape is encountered it should be met with all the force of a determined people.

We of the Grange acknowledge the right of protest, because our Order came into being as a protest against inequalities, corruption and greed. All this was done with due respect to orderly gatherings and most of the glaring inequalities were remedied.

There are many areas for improvement in the well being of our close to 200 million people. Proper methods of correction should be considered and wherever possible, remedial action taken.

The spending of billions of public funds by Federal, State, County and local bodies is not the answer. There must be a desire on the part of the majority of our citizens to join together in correcting existing evils.

The billions already spent on poverty programs, re-development, health, education and welfare and all the other pollyanna schemes have in the most part been dismal failures.

Even the resources of the United States are not inexhaustible. Before any more billions of public funds are wasted, the Congress of the United States should consider the stability of this nation first.

Five more years of dispensing billions of public funds will undermine the confidence of the free world in our form of government. Once this confidence is lost, the world might become helplessly enmeshed in a turn towards the totalitarian form of government now holding over 1 billion people in bondage.

Where financial assistance is needed, it can be provided, but not the present unlimited squandering public funds under the guise of relief.

GOOD OF THE ORDER

The June 30, 1967 Quarterly report showed a net gain of 300 members within California. This is encouraging and the reports to September 30th, while not official, show another upward trend. This is indicative of an awakening among our membership towards expansion. It's healthful and in travelling the thousand mile length of California it can be readily seen in the increased activity towards local improvement, awareness of the importance of adequate legislation, pride in the Grange and all the attributes that combines to make Grange membership among the highest in ideals in our modern, complex civilization.

It is well to revere the past accomplishments of the Grange, but in this year 1967 methods in tune with the times must prevail to continue on as a vital force in the State and Nation. Reluctantly, we must admit that some things we accepted as normal in former years were more desirable than today's tempo, but destiny marches on and whether we approve or not, we must alter some of our planning.

Modern highways, fast automobiles, improved recreational facilities, bowling alleys, moving picture drive-ins, golf courses, television and radio, all have their affect on Grange membership and attendance. To stick our heads in the sand ostrich-like is folly. There is no need to alter the requirements for Grange membership, but we must revamp our formula to keep abreast of the times.

Busy, determined people will no longer spend an evening merely for social benefit, with no definite goal in sight. There is so much for each citizen to do in a constructive manner that we have not yet scratched the surface in what we can accomplish. There should be room for recreation and entertainment, but not as a requirement for each meeting. Cleverly alternate instruction, deliberations, and entertainment, so that it will be a genuine pleasure to participate in each Grange meeting. All the pious and proper pronouncements that can be made will be useless in attracting and holding membership, unless we carry out a well-balanced schedule of stimulating meetings.

The Grange was formed to embrace all those interested in agriculture. We still function as an agricultural fraternity, but we have expanded our horizon and invite all those interested in good government, community services and the advancement of education. This covers a wide field and could easily attract over 150,000 more Californians into our midst. They are waiting to be asked. Cast about and interest some qualified citizen to join with us. Each member knows the requirements for successful membership. Most of our present members were enrolled by being asked by a member.

Over 10,000,000 additional people will be attracted to California within the next ten years. It will take wise planning to situate them properly. Our local district, county and state officials must wake up to the demand of our populace, that proper safeguards be imposed now in building, zoning, recreation parks, schools, highways and all of the needs of modern urban as well as rural living. By proper planning now, many areas can escape the blight that has fallen on California areas where haste, greed and neglect by public officials has resulted in slums, blighted areas and ugly masses of habitations, business and highways that could have been avoided if proper care had been taken in advance.

California's thousand mile length and area make it possible for ample space for business, industry, homes as well as agriculture and recreation. Each Grange should take stock of its territory and alert their governmental officials on the need for careful planning and when feasible, each Grange can offer definite suggestions for improvement.

One of the sinister influences surrounding our affluent society is the gradual erosion of the stability of the home. The Grange stands on its century old tradition, a well ordered home is the basis of a strong nation. In some areas, where the influence of the home seems to be slipping, we urge a re-dedication of our hearts, minds and physical resources to the principles of a mature nation, the home as its bulwark and the education of its future leaders in the way of decency. Follow this and the second century of our Order will serve as a beacon to all who value the foundations of our national life.

OVERSEER'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange,
Greetings:

This 95th Session of the California State Grange has been called to order in this beautiful city of Riverside, 29 years since the last session was held here in 1938. Much has transpired during this span of years. Wars have been fought and still we have no peace. A tremendous increase in population is expanding cities and taking over farming areas—science and technology are marching forward, performing new miracles.

This year of 1967 we are celebrating 100 years of Grange service to our nation and we find new problems that must be solved. The Grange is still dedicated to the same principles laid out by our founding fathers—the preservation of agriculture, the well being of our people, and defense of the rights of the individual. I wish to thank all Granges, who have extended invitations to me to meetings and installations and express my thanks to those I was unable to attend.

The Grange Members of this county and officials of this city have put forth every effort to make this session of the California State Grange pleasant and successful. It is with deep gratitude that we accept their hospitality and present our thanks.

The Order of Patrons of Husbandry has a long history of services. Let us look forward to the future with the same high ideals and principles that has built our organization in this past century.

Fraternally submitted,
VAYNE O. RALSTON, Overseer
California State Grange

LECTURER'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Fellow State Officers and Delegates:

Again it is my pleasure to report to you on the activities of this office during the year 1967. I particularly wish to commend the many Lecturers, Subordinate and Pomona, who have proved their value to the Grange by their improved performances this past year. I have received during the first three quarters of this year more than 900 reports with seven Pomona and 61 Subordinate Granges failing to send in reports to this office. This is again a slight improvement in this requirement, and duty of the Lecturers.

Educational programs led this list of programs reported with speakers and movies predominating. A majority of the Granges reported using the Centennial Candlelighting ceremonies as suggested by the National Grange. Variety and musical programs were next in order of number followed by Grange History, H.E.C. programs and programs planned strictly for entertainment. I am well pleased with the improvements shown in the programs presented by the Home Economics committees before their Granges. The tendency to resorting to games reading and poems is declining again proving the capability of our Lecturers to learn and improve their performance.

Following last year's convention 42 certificates were sent to Lecturers entering the State Booster Night program. Winners were:

In class of 100 members and over:

Prunedale Grange 388—Elsa Hadley, Lecturer. Blue Ribbon Award.

Grover City Grange 746—Sylvia Pieschke, Lecturer. Red Ribbon Award.

Sonora Grange 705—Edna Opie, Lecturer. White Ribbon Award.

In class of 100 members and less:

Mission Grange 767: Florence Crippen, Lecturer. Blue Ribbon Award.

Elbow Creek Grange 733—DeEtta Mueller, Lecturer. Red Ribbon Award.

Wintersburg Grange 583—Edna Kahler, Lecturer. White Ribbon Award.

There were no winners in the National Grange contest from California. Of the 10 Operation Forward reports received last year the winners selected were:

In class of 100 members or more:

Grover City Grange 746—Lecturer Sylvia Pieschke. Blue Ribbon Award.

Wyandotte Grange 495—Lecturer Eva Hiles. Red Ribbon Award.

Santa Cruz-Live Oak Grange 503—Lecturer Alice E. Owens. White Ribbon Award.

In class of 100 members or less:

Aptos Grange 800 — Lecturer Sara Mello. Blue Ribbon Award. Also first place award in the National Grange Contest.

Rough and Ready Grange 795—Lecturer Fay M. Dunbar. Red Ribbon Award.

Palm Grange 604—Lecturer Pauline Martin. White Ribbon Award.

Operation Forward and Booster Night reports for 1967 are now being judged and the winners will be entered in the National Grange contest.

Thirty-two Pomona and 139 Subordinate Lecturers received Certificates for their prompt reports during 1966. If the reports continue to come in during this last quarter this year as they have so far we will have a record number of Certificates to present in January. Thirty-four Lecturers have qualified for performance certificates from the National Grange this year and certificates will be presented to them. Most of these will be Gold Star Certificates. The names will be read at the Lecturer's conference on Thursday morning.

Forty-three entries in the Art contest are now on display in the Auditorium. There are 14 entries in the Photocolor contest also on display in the Auditorium. These will be judged Wednesday and the winners will be eligible to enter the National Grange contest. Ten of the Pomona Granges have had Talent elimination contests this year and the winners will participate in the State finals tonight on the stage of this Auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m. The winner selected by the panel of judges being eligible to enter the National Grange finals.

Paper work continues to take up a considerable amount of time among the duties of this office. I have received nearly 1000 letters this year and answered most of them. Two thousand quarterly bulletins were mailed to Lecturers, State Officers, Deputies and other State Lecturers during this year and in addition this past quarter 500 Feature Bulletins were mailed out to the above stated officers. Many special programs were sent to Lecturers requesting them.

The Lecturer's Loan Library consisting of 327 books and papers continues to be a help to the Lecturers using it for program material. There is now a balance of $12.51 in this project and a report of the income and expenses has been presented to the Secretary and Executive Committee and will appear in the Journal of Proceedings.

Twelve District Lecturers conferences were held this year. Six hundred thirty-four members attending and representing 196 Granges. Of these there were 35 Pomona and 129

Subordinate Lecturers attending. It is hoped that attendance at these conferences will increase during next year. Granges should encourage their lecturers to attend these conferences which are designed to be a help in planning and presenting programs and to be informative to the Lecturers regarding their duties and responsibilities.

I have had the pleasure of visiting many Granges during the year and regret that I was unable to visit with all of you who invited me. Conflicting dates accounting for most of my regrets.

I would like to express my thanks to the Editor of the Grange News for his cooperation in printing each month the Lecturer's article, "To The Lecturer." And I appreciate the many fine compliments received on the subjects in this article.

The Penny Pines Reforestation Project introduced last year to the Lecturers has moved along successfully with 18 Granges reporting they have successfully completed the project. In addition several Junior Granges have added this project to their list of accomplishments. I hope that this will continue to be a project of the Lecturers work and that soon every National Forest in California will have Grange plantings and markers in them for the public to enjoy.

In conclusion we cannot stress too much the importance of this session of the California State Grange. The many community, State and Federal problems that are now creeping in upon us and creating hardships among many of our people must be overcome. In your deliberations this week it will be your responsibility to develop a strong, active program that will carry this Grange forward into the new century. We cannot allow ourselves to become content and complacent about these problems. Nor can we wait for a year or five years but we must act now to solve these problems and maintain the purposes for which we, the Grange, was organized a century ago. The Grange came into being as a fighting group dedicated to a set of purposes and principles and we must maintain that heritage or fade into history. The time to act is now, for time is running out. Keep in mind the charge of the Overseer in the first degree: "In the Grange there is work for all, the idler has no place among Patrons of Husbandry."

I wish you all a most successful and progressive week in Riverside.

STEWARD'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange. Hello Everyone.

It is indeed a great honor and pleasure for me to serve and greet you from the Steward's station, this 95th annual session of the California State Grange.

I would like to thank the Officers and Granges of Riverside County for their hard and diligent work in making our visit here in beautiful Riverside a pleasant and constructive convention.

The delegate body at this convention will be faced with many resolutions expressing the wishes of the Subordinate Granges on agriculture and legislation as a whole, and I am sure with their earnest and sincere evaluation will adopt a program that will be in the best interest of the citizens of this State and Nation.

I wish to thank all the Granges throughout the State for their kind and generous invitations this year and regret we were unable to attend them all.

Fraternally submitted,
 LEONARD HENDRICKS, Steward
 California State Grange

ASSISTANT STEWARD'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

It is a pleasure and an honor to greet you at this 95th Annual Session of the California State Grange.

May it prove to be a most fruitful and enjoyable convention for all those in attendance and may we be truly blessed with a liberal harvest in that our deliberations prove to be as beneficial to the growth and prosperity of our order as those at conventions in the past.

My many thanks to those Granges for the invitations received during the past year—being unable to accept all of them has been my loss.

Fraternally submitted,
P. KENNETH BLEY, Assistant Steward
California State Grange

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

Greetings:

Again it is my privilege and pleasure to greet you from the Chaplains station and present to you a report from this office. It is a very special occasion for Southern California Grangers to welcome you to our area. We are confident of renewed interest and endeavor in our various Granges due to the session being held here in Riverside.

Twenty-nine years ago the California State Grange Convention was held in this same hall. It was a most successful one and we are certain this year will be the same.

The past year has been another busy milestone in my Grange work. I have been able to speak for the Grange program on the radio and through various civic organizations. In my new location I have the opportunity to interest former Grangers in renewing their membership in the Order. We can all point with pride to this Centennial year, which makes a century of fruitful service for our communities, our Country, and the welfare of mankind.

The record of past achievements and accomplishments are noble examples for our future progress, but the future cannot be taken for granted. Each Granger must work effectively for the good of the Order, and thereby insure the prosperity and progress of the Grange.

I wish to express my appreciation for the many invitations to attend special meetings and events, but time and distance made it impossible to attend them all.

Through the Chaplains Corner in the Grange News, I have been able to speak of spiritual values that have been and still are the solid foundation of our fraternity. May we expand our influence for good and for God given principles.

In this time of unrest and disturbing conditions, may we meet the emergency with spirit, fortitude and determination to retain moral and truth principles which are basic to peace and the brotherhood of man.

May Divine guidance direct the deliberations of this convention.

Fraternally submitted,
LETA M. LITTLER Chaplain

1966 ANNUAL TREASURER'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

As your State Treasurer it is gratifying to report that although we find costs and inflation in general on the increase the funds of the California State Grange show about the same balances as a year ago.

This would not be possible if it were not for the hard working, loyal staff and officers who guide the Grange between each of the annual meetings.

The annual report of the finances of the California State Grange are as follows:

GATE KEEPER'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Brother Nelson, Fellow Officers, Delegates Fellow Grangers:

As said before, it has been indeed an honor and privilege to serve as the Gate Keeper during 1966 and 1967. I am very proud of the whole hearted support given this Station by the deputies and the many volunteers in covering the innumerable openings in the building and the one at Stockton.

Sister Moody and I have accepted all the invitations physically possible during the year, and hope sometime in the future to take up all the "rain checks" given us.

The members of San Bernardino County who had a small part in the preparation of your welcome here, would like to add their greetings and welcome to you. We know that you now believe that we have literally given you the "warmest" welcome ever!

Fraternally submitted,

ALBERT MOODY, Gate Keeper

CERES' REPORT

Worthy State Master, Worthy National Grange Overseer, State Officers, Delegates and Friends:

The past two years as Ceres of the California State Grange have been memorable ones for me. They have been both interesting and inspiring. I have enjoyed traveling to many new Granges and making new friends as well as renewing old friendships.

I wish to say thank you for all the invitations and the many kindnesses extended to me and to my family.

My best wishes for a successful convention in this Centennial year.

POMONA'S REPORT

Worthy Master, State Officers, Delegates and Members of the California State Grange:

Greetings:

Again it is my privilege to greet you as Pomona. I wish to extend my sincere thanks for the honor you have accorded me in permitting me to serve you in this capacity for the past six years.

These years of working with you have been happy ones and the greatest thing I can wish for my successor is that she will find as much joy in serving you as I have.

I shall always remember and treasure the many pleasant memories of Grange functions I have had the privilege of attending as a State Officer.

May this be a fruitful session in the beautiful City of Riverside, one that will inspire us with greater determination to further the cause of our Order. The Grange is an organization we can be proud to belong to; therefore, let us make the most of our opportunities through Grange work to improve our Community, our State and our Nation.

May the peace and understanding of God's love be with you, always.

FLORA REPORT

Worthy Master, Worthy National Overseer, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

It has truly been a privilege and honor to have served as your State Flora during our Grange Centennial year and to feel I have had a personal part in the many accomplishments of a hundred years of Grange service.

To be a member of this remarkable Order is thrilling, as to have been an officer is beyond description.

My visit to Subordinate and Pomona Granges have been both enjoyable and instructive. I only regret illness in my family this year has prevented my visiting more.

It was my good fortune to have been chairman of a float in the Santa Rosa Rose Parade, entered by the Sonoma County Grange. Although we were not awarded a prize, the Grange got publicity beyond monetary reward.

As a second century of Grange service dawns, may this 95th Convention of the California State Grange go into the record books as a most successful and far reaching effort.

DONNA BERTOZZI, Flora

LADY ASSISTANT STEWARD'S REPORT

Worthy Master, Fellow State Officers, Delegates of the 95th Annual Session, Brothers and Sisters:

It has been my honor and pleasure once more to help with the entrance ceremonies of our State Grange and to greet so many old friends and new. The privilege is more like a home coming to me, as at the time of the last Riverside Convention 29 years ago, we used to bicycle in and around the Mission's corridors and statues, playing follow-the-leader — doing the same as we do today, following the lead set forth by the wonderful leadership of Grange traditions.

I wish to thank all of the Granges for the wonderful invitations to attend functions. I feel a word of explanation is in order, however. We just had our sixth addition to the family two weeks ago—father and son doing fine. Please invite us again. Have a wonderful time and consider well the many things to be decided here this week. Have an enjoyable session.

MUSICIAN'S REPORT

Worthy State Master, Worthy National Overseer, Fellow Officers and Members of California State Grange:

It is a pleasure and an honor to be your State Musician, and look forward to it each year.

I have attended many installations, initiations, Grange anniversaries, and Grange days in many county fairs, and enjoyed them all.

I wish to thank all Granges for their invitations to their different functions, at the same time I am sorry I could not attend them all, because I have not found how to be in two or three places at one time.

It has been an honor to serve as Deputy of the Antelope Valley jurisdiction for the past year.

Besides serving as Master of Joshua Tree Grange, have attended at least three meetings of the six Granges in this jurisdiction.

Installed officers elect who were unable to attend the Officers installation.

The Antelope Valley Grange Credit Union is showing a steady growth.

The Grange owns a gasoline bulk plant which is operating successfully. This plant has been operating over twenty years in this area and is leased to the Phillips Petroleum Co.

Two of our Granges entered feature booths in the A. V. fair and won first and second prizes.

Yucca Grange and Joshua Tree Grange, each have a degree team and have exemplified the degrees twice this past season.

The A. V. Pomona Grange has a fifth degree team and exemplified the fifth degree in time for those who wish to take the sixth degree at the convention in Riverside.

The Antelope Granges had a half hour program at the Antelope Valley fair which was well received.

The State Master was present at this program and spoke briefly.

From all indications the Antelope Valley jurisdiction will show a gain for 1967.

EAST BUTTE COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers, Delegates, Brothers and Sisters of the California State Grange.

It is again a pleasure to report on the activities of the Subordinate Granges in East Butte County.

This has been an interesting and busy year with the Centennial membership our object. All the Granges in East Butte combined show a very nice gain with Palermo Grange leading with 125 new Centennial members.

It was my pleasure to install the officers in four Granges this year. I attended the State Lecturer's Conference at Thermalito Grange. I have visited each Grange in my District twice or more this year. Our Credit Union continues to grow . . . gained over 40 thousand in shares since Jan. 1st, 1967. The GBO representatives and insurance agents are very busy. Also the new CPS health plan is being accepted very well.

Butte Pomona and all twelve (12) Subordinate Granges in Butte County sponsored a Centennial Booth at the Silver Dollar Fair at Chico and Butte County Fair at Gridley, depicting the accomplishments of the Grange since 1867—100 years of service. The response and comments were many. Won a participating Blue Ribbon on each booth.

We organized Wyandotte Junior Grange No. 178 in Wyandotte on May 6th, 1967 with 25 Charter members. They are going along very fine under the leadership of Sister Francis Holland, Matron, and Brother Holland, Patron. They now have 35 members. They took on the Penny Pines Project and sent in their $68.00 for the plot and their plot is located in Plumas National Forest west of Bucks Lake on the old Quincy Road. I had the pleasure of presenting them their Charter at their July meeting.

Concow Grange completed their Hall this year and State Master Blaine Quinn dedicated the Hall and burned the mortgage Sunday Oct. 1st, 1967. Was a very nice performance in a beautiful mountain setting.

Thermalito Grange is raising money for an addition on their Hall next year.

State Master and Sister Quinn visited Wyandotte September 15th meeting and Brother Quinn presented 25 year pins to Sister Rachel Rogers and Past Deputy Earnest Russell and Sister Russell.

The HEC's in East Butte County have been working hard raising funds for improvements on their Halls and donating to many worthy projects, such as, Retarded Children Center, Heart Fund, State Building Fund and National Building Fund and State Student Fund, Blue Birds, Christmas Kits for soldiers in Viet Nam, Cancer Fund, Bidwell Council, Camp Fire Girls and many others. Sponsored 4-H and Little League. We still cannot give the HEC girls enough praise for their untiring work.

Fraternally submitted,
Leonard Hendricks, Deputy

WEST BUTTE COUNTY

Worthy Master, California State Grange.

Reporting for West Butte County:

I have been visiting and helping my Granges in every way I can to encourage them to increase membership, and to take part in community service.

All Granges have been doing community service work but all have not entered or reported it.

They have been carrying out the Centennial theme by candle lighting and programs.

All have had booster nights with open house and good programs. West Butte has made a small gain over the preceeding year.

The HEC clubs have all been busy with their bake sales rummage sales, dinners and other money making projects.

Take it all in all, West Butte Granges have had a very successful year.

Fraternally,
Justus Borchers, Deputy

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

Greetings from Contra Costa County:

I am glad to report that our Granges are in good condition but there has been very little change in membership.

I installed three of our Granges this year and our Junior Grange. Also, I have visited the Granges whenever possible and have attended Pomona meetings and our Junior Grange meetings.

I attended water meetings and also a special meeting of San Luis Drain and Interagency Delta Report.

Three of our Granges entered the Community Service Contest.

Our Home Economic Committees have been very active making money to support their Granges. This was done by giving dinners, rummage sales, gift sales and others. Many welfare hours were reported.

The County Fair was actively supported by the Granges and over $600.00 was made in prizes.

Grange Day at the fair was a great success. The yearly pot luck picnic was well attended. State Master Quinn and his wife were present. County Fair Officials, Extension Service Officials and 4-H Leaders were also present. A perpetual trophy and a personal trophy was presented to the 4-H Home Economics winner. At an earlier date, our Pomona Master presented the 4-H All Star Boy with a sweater and money to go to the conference.

Booster Night programs are being conducted about this time.

The Four Degrees have been exemplified by all the Granges and the Fifth Degree was conferred at our last meeting.

The Credit Union is doing well and is able to lend money to our members.

Fraternally submitted,
Manuel J. Trebino, Deputy

EL DORADO COUNTY

Worthy Master and Officers of the State Grange.

Greetings:

Another year has passed and I have considered it an honor to have been a part of the State Grange.

Some of the Granges had booths in the El Dorado County Fair, also Amador Fair and in Auburn District Fair.

The Pomona HEC had a booth also at El Dorado and Amador County Fairs.

Some of the Granges gave scholarships of different amounts to students and donations to 4-H and the Girl and Boy Scouts. The HEC has been very active, both Pomona and Subordinate. The first and second degree team from Elk Grove visited El Dorado twice and third and fourth of Gold Trail once.

We have had the honor of having several of the state officers visit with the Granges of El Dorado County. My wife and I visited with other Granges on different occasions.

Birthday dinner at Helmar Grange, Merced County, burning of the mortgage at Loomis and also a lecturer's conference at Loomis.

My wife and I attended Grange Day at the fair in Sacramento. The wife and I also visited with Fair Oaks at an installation. We attended visiting officers night at Marshall Grange.

I have visited each Grange twice and attended many of their pot lucks and booster nights.

I have been quizzing some of the drop outs trying to learn why they dropped out. (Various reasons).

The gain for El Dorado County was small but hope it will be better next year.

The El Dorado - Amador Credit Union is doing a good job of helping the members with their problems.

Fraternally submitted,
Leland E. Miller, Deputy

NORTH FRESNO - MADERA COUNTIES

To the Officers and Delegates of the California State Grange Greetings:

With the assistance of an able team, I again installed the officers of the Pomona and Subordinate Granges of Fresno and Madera Counties in a joint ceremony in January, getting the year off to a good start.

He had hail early in the year and many members on the west side were hard hit, some losing their entire crop. The prolonged hot summer weather helped the farmers in most areas, but the late Spring delayed the harvests.

Membership has remained about steady. While we have added several new members, the loss of others has about evened the score. We've had interesting meetings with fair attendance active Committees including Home Ec. and Credit Union. Our Credit Union has found a new home more adequately filling its needs and under the able leadership of Bro. Tarailo is filling the needs of the membership.

I've visited Granges and given help and encouragement where needed. We've had degrees exemplified at various times in different Granges throughout the year. We are aware of the value of publicity and appreciate the efforts of our people in that area.

We had a Countywide picnic that was well attended and a County dinner to bring together Grange members for an evening's entertainment. We are conscious of the fact that we are to host the State Session in 1968 and extend a most cordial welcome and look forward to seeing you in Fresno in 1968.

Ada S. Doss, Deputy

SOUTH HUMBOLDT COUNTY

To the Worthy State Master, Officers and members.

My report to you as Deputy of Central Humboldt district comprising five Granges is as follows:

I have officially visited my Granges at least once. At all Grange meetings attended have advocated a 100% patronization of the Grange services offered with a short explanation of each. Have been trying to get Redwood Grange on its feet and believe some progress has been made.

With Brother Heinrich, So. Humboldt Deputy, we offered a series of cash prizes to our Granges to boost membership.

Have been instrumental with Bro. Fredrickson in smoothing out hard feelings existing between two Pomonas and to establishing a Granger's Blood Bank.

With our Pomona Degree team we have visited and initiated members in Del Norte and Mendocino counties. Our recent visit to Mendocino, saw 36 members from Humboldt at Laytonville give the 5th to 12 candidates.

Fraternally submitted,
Dave Thomson, Deputy

KINGS COUNTY

Worthy Master:

We are back from Sweden, had a wonderful trip. Things are good in Kings County. We conferred the 4th degree, and it was beautiful.

As you know, many of our members are getting old, so we have to work to keep things even.

I had hoped to go to the convention, but Heldur has the shingles, and has been very sick, so I do not know how it will be. But I know you will have a fine convention and a good time.

Fraternally submitted,
John I. Ellberg, Deputy

LAKE COUNTY

Greetings:

All of the Granges of Lake County are active, and most have taken in a good number of new members during 1967. However, death and other causes have kept the county from showing a good increase in total membership. Of course we always look forward to a better future.

All but one Grange now has a hall they can call their own. Konocti Grange No. 755 is the latest to acquire one. This was done by obtaining a long term lease on an old school building in Lower Lake. They have spent considerable money putting it in good shape and the hall was dedicated to Grange use in April, 1967. It is also being preserved, by the Grange, as a Historical Site and has been accepted by the State of California as such. An appropriate marker is being placed on the building by the Historical Society of California. The building will be 100 years old soon.

All of the other Granges, which have a hall, are quite busy improving them, by remodeling, painting, etc.

James R. True, Deputy

LASSEN COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and members of the California State Grange.

The Lassen County Granges enjoyed a year of growth. The future appears particularly bright as a result of the various projects that have been initiated.

The Johnstonville Grange worked untireingly to remove a portion of the debt incurred in remodeling their hall.

The Janesville Grange had a busy year advancing in their community service program.

The rapid growth in membership during the year was a direct result of the Community Service Program.

As Deputy, the Johnstonville Grange was visited frequently. As Master, all meetings during 1967 were attended at the Janesville Grange.

New officers were installed for 1968 on October 3 by the District Deputy. Under the leadership of these officers, the Granges look forward to the ensuing year with confidence and enthusiasm.

Fraternally yours,
R. L. Hartman, Deputy

LOS ANGELES COUNTY

Worthy Master: Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

Greetings from Los Angeles County Granges:

I am happy to report that Grange enthusiasm in Los Angeles County continues at a high level. Our Home Economics Community Progress and other committees have been very busy.

An extremely well attended Officers Instruction Class was conducted by the writer at San Dimas Grange for the Granges of the County—for which Brother Hodler-Master and his Grange deserve rich thanks for sponsoring.

Our Los Angeles County Picnic was well attended this year with entertainment and prizes galore. We were especially honored to have Our State Master, J. Blaine Quinn, as our distinguished guest and his message to us was received with enthusiasm.

As usual our several efficient Degree Teams conferred the degrees no less than twice each during the year, our hats off to them for a fine job.

The Granges of San Bernardino, Riverside, and Los Angeles Counties revealed their ingenuity as usual by coming up with some out-standing booths for the Los Angeles County Fair—which was attended by well over a million people this year.

Sister Greene and I were honored to be guests at Sister Rosa Burdick's joint Home Economics meeting of Riverside and Los Angeles County at Glen Avon Grange, which was a huge success. It was attended by no less personages than Sister Ruth Quinn, National H.E.C. Representative, and wife of our State Master—Sister Gladys True, California State H.E.C. Chairman and our own 4th District Chairman, Sister Enid Wiseman, and of course many H.E.C. Chairmen from Southern California, a number of Deputies and other Grange Members.

In closing I wish to extend to all Grange People, young and old, every success and happiness for the future.

Fraternally submitted,
Kenneth C. Greene, Deputy

MENDOCINO COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Greetings:

It is indeed a pleasure to be able to report the activities of the Granges in Mendocino County, in their increase in membership, the interest taken in Community Progress Program. Several of the Granges entered in the 12th. Dist. Fair in Ukiah, as well as the Mendocino County Fair and Apple Show in Boonville. We had one Grange to celebrate their 50th Anniversary. Another Grange bought an old church building and are in the process of remodeling it. One Grange entered a Float in the Paul Bunyan Centennial, the Float represented "Women in the Grange." A Junior Grange also entered a Float in the Paul Bunyan Centennial, to represent the Junior Granges.

Several of the Granges are serving dinners for different organizations in order to finance the different projects the Grange is interested in. What would we do if it were not for the women in the Grange. "God Bless Them." The District H.E.C. meeting held in Mendocino County was well attended. Our Credit Union is very active, also the Insurance Agent.

Two of the Granges have elected and installed their officers for the coming year. So all in all we have had a good year.

Fraternally submitted,
Hugh Graham, Deputy

WEST MONTEREY COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Greetings:

On September 16, I was honored by the appointment of Deputy for West Monterey County by State Master J. B. Quinn. Horace Fleming from Prunedale Grange, Master of Monterey Pomona Grange, was appointed for East Monterey County. Brother Fleming and myself are going to work very close together, and will do everything in our power to help any Grange or Granger.

In the thirty days since my appointment, I have visited four Granges within my district, and will continue to do so in the future. In 1948 I organized the Big Sur Grange, and have already a complete set of officers elected. I must say, that I am very proud of this Grange. Corral De Tierra Grange is having election of all officers the last part of October. We plan to have installation of both Big Sur and Corral De Tierra after the convention.

So far, I haven't received a report from the Granges in regard to gain or loss of membership, but know that the State Secretary has received a report from the Monterey Grange.

Our Home Economic Departments have been quite busy in most of the Granges. Marina Grange No. 518 has made a vast improvement in their hall, which the cost was close to $2,500.00. The Home Economics of Marina Grange have taken care of the cost of painting and new draperies.

Monterey and San Bernardino Counties can boast of a prosperous Credit Union which has an asset of $70,000.00. Thanks to Gordon Preston, Past Pomona Master, and Carl Lembach Secretary of Pomona Grange.

I certainly would like to thank Brother Quinn for the appointment as Deputy, which I consider a great honor. I served as Deputy of Monterey and San Bernardino Counties from 1942 thru 1952, and organized two subordinate Granges one Pomona Grange, one Junior Grange, also reorganized one Junior Grange.

Fraternally submitted,
Thomas Eide, Deputy

MOJAVE VALLEY

Worthy Master, Officers, and Members of California State Grange:

Again it is my pleasure to send greetings from Mojave Valley.

The Granges in this district have been quite active and enthusiastic this year. They have taken in many new members and were able to show a net gain as of June 30th. With their continuing work and spirit we hope to show another gain next year.

Again this year the San Bernardino County Fair was well supported and the Grangers can be justly proud of their continued effort in promoting the Fair. Five feature exhibits were entered and all received a prize. Two Granges have installed food booths. Many trophies were donated in 4-H and F.F.A. competition. Grange Day, at the Fair, was again its usual success with representation by Brother and Sister Quinn.

The various Granges are active in community service in sponsoring local activities and betterment.

One Grange completed its Hall which was dedicated in July by the State Master and other State Officers. Several Granges have made notable improvements in their Halls.

Our Federal Credit Union is active in helping our members in the Valley, and continuing to pay good dividends. We have over 270 members and shareholders totaling better than $121,000.00. Our total assets are over $138,000.00 with total loans of over $97,000.00. Since its inception, some twenty five years ago, the Credit Union has made over thirteen hundred loans totaling almost two million dollars.

Our insurance program is increasing and helping to procure new members, and the members are taking advantage of the various benefits in increasing numbers.

With every good wish for a successful and increasing attendance at the State Convention in Riverside.

Fraternally submitted,
Lester E. Wendt, Deputy

MODOC COUNTY

*To the Officers and Members of California State Grange.
Greetings:*

Again it is a pleasure to report for the Granges in Modoc County. Our Granges are scattered over the county with mountain roads sometimes snowed in in the winter months.

Many ranches are being sold, thus causing us to lose some members, but when ever we can we try to urge the new owners to join the Grange.

Our Granges are taking part in the benefits of Grange membership, i.e. Credit Union, Grange Insurance and Community work. Most of our Granges have had booths at the County Fair and have won prizes. They also let their halls for 4-H and other community affairs.

I hope this session of the California State Grange will be a successful one and accomplish much for California agriculture.

Don Casey, Deputy

NAPA COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers, Delegates and Patrons of California State Grange:

As we left Napa on our way to Riverside, we looked forward to seeing many of you Grangers whom we have met and also those whose association we have enjoyed through the years. Although Riverside is quite a distance from Napa, many of our loyal Grangers are also attending the convention. We are always saddened when we think of those loyal and faithful Patrons who are unable to meet with us at convention because of poor health or death.

Our Granges in Napa County are progressing very well. We have gained in net membership this year. There seems to be much enthusiasm throughout all four of our Granges. Our Granges have participated in both our county and our local fairs this year. We also had our usual bus-load to the state fair again this year. Our Credit Union is growing and rendering a fine service to the members.

We extend greetings to the National Grange on their Centennial year and to all who will attend the celebration. May the future bring peace and prosperity to all.

Fraternally submitted,
Leonard C. McClone, Deputy

NEVADA COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

It is with sincere pleasure that I bring greetings from the three Granges of Nevada County.

Have attended meetings at Banner and Golden Empire Granges during the year and had the privilege of obligating several of their candidates.

All three Granges entered feature booths at the Nevada County District Fair and all winning prize money.

Golden Empire Grange has moved to a more suitable building and location which I am sure will help their attendance. The members have been working on the land purchased for their future Grange building.

Banner Grange had a new well drilled and hope to have the new pump installed before long. They also have new lights in the hall and planning other improvements.

Rough and Ready Grange installed new windows, repaired and painted the ceiling. Have excavated for extension of kitchen and now getting a permit to go on with the work.

Again had the honor of presenting the $100 award given by the Placer Nugget Pomona Grange to an F.F.A. student of the Nevada Union High school.

As chairman of the Placer-Nevada Credit Union have attended every meeting this year. Each Grange in my district is represented in the Credit Union.

the Grange picnic at Dobbins with a group from Nevada Attended the two District Six H.E.C. meetings and enjoyed County.

Our three Home Economics Committees are active and doing excellent work.

Had one of the largest attendances of the year when the Placer Nugget Pomona Grange met at Rough and Ready Grange. All nine Granges of Placer and Nevada Counties answered the roll call.

Had the pleasure of attending the dedication of the new Indian Valley Grange hall which replaced the one destroyed by fire.

Our three Granges have gained a few members and are about even financially.

Best wishes for a pleasant and successful convention at Riverside.

Fraternally submitted,
Charles A. Deardorf, Deputy

PLACER COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and members of the California State Grange.

Greetings:

Once again it is a pleasure for me to report for Placer County.

Our Pomona Grange has had very good attendance at our meetings. In January, 1967 Pomona and Subordinate Grange officers were installed in the Home Economics building at the Auburn Fair grounds with over 300 members and friends attending. The installing officer was Executive Committeeman Lloyd V. Piper, assisted by his wife, Sister Piper.

Again this year in conjunction with the Subordinate Grange we gave $100 to the outstanding F.F.A. boy and $100 to the outstanding F.H.A. girl. We also gave $25 to the 4-H All Star from this area to help with expenses to the 4-H conference at Davis in August.

All the Granges are busy raising money for different projects such as delegate fund, Meals for Millions, State Building Fund, Student Loans and many local affairs.

Gold Hill has been putting on public parties and Sunday breakfasts to raise money.

Loomis, Long Valley, Mt. Vernon and Meadow Vista Granges entered feature booths at both of the fairs and all took either first or second prizes. Two Junior Granges also had booths and won.

Loomis is very busy helping people in their area who are in need.

Meadow Vista and Sierra Nevada are holding their own. They assist all needy persons and are quite busy in welfare work. Sierra Nevada purchased a new hall in the small community of Ilinoistown, about one-half mile from Colfax.

Long Valley repaired and painted the inside of their hall.

Mt. Vernon has had several speakers on the Water Project. They also assist needy persons.

The Ostrom degree team has conferred the degree at two Granges.

The HEC committees are very busy visiting the ill, raising money, support the blood bank, serve cookies to blood donors and have put in many hundreds of hours on welfare work.

Our Credit Union is still growing. With an increase in assets and about the same membership as last year.

The Junior Granges are getting along nicely. Won some first, second and thirds at the California State Fair.

I have visited all the Granges in Placer County twice this year and find them all in good financial standing. I also attended all county HEC meetings.

We have had a gain in membership this year.

Fraternally submitted,
Eldon B. Gage, Deputy

PLUMAS COUNTY

Worthy State Master, State Officers, Fellow Deputies and Patrons.

Greetings:

I take pleasure in reporting a year of success in the Granges in Plumas County.

Topping the list is the accomplishment of Indian Valley Grange members who by their industry and perserverance were able to raise a new modern Grange Hall on the acres of the old one in just six months. Of course they were aided in this by contributions from over one hundred other Granges for which they are duly grateful.

All the Granges in Plumas County entered the booth competition at the county fair, first prize Sierra Valley Grange.

Feather River Grange has done an outstanding job of repair and furnishing on their hall.

I wish to commend the members of Feather River for the monthly news letter.

All three Granges have worked hard on membership and can report a small net gain for the year.

Fraternally submitted,
Bruce Miles, Deputy

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

Worthy State Master and Sister Quinn, Officers and Members of California State Grange and Delegate Body.

It is a great pleasure to be able to report to you again as Deputy of San Bernardino County.

Membership wise, I feel that our County has done very well in this our Centennial Year. There is a showing of increased interest among our Grange members and we are looking for good reports from them the balance of this year.

We had the privilege and pleasure of instituting a Junior Grange No. 179 under the auspices of Fonbloom Grange No. 602 and their Charter was closed with thirty-five names of Juniors thereon. They are aged from five to fourteen and are an interested and enthusiastic group of young boys and girls.

We again had the pleasure of installing the 1967 Officers of San Bernardino County Pomona Grange and one subordinate, as well as three of our subordinates individually. Also the Antelope Valley Pomona Grange and their Subordinate Officers, the Mojave Valley Pomona Grange and Subordinates as well as the Officers of our new Junior Grange.

Each of our Subordinates continued the second year of the Community Progress program, finishing with several projects that really are of help to their communities.

Our Pomona Grange again entered Fair Booths in the County Fair at Victorville in San Bernardino County and at Pomona in Los Angeles County and placed first in their category at each fair. We won Sweepstakes at the San Bernardino County Fair.

A Degree team is in readiness to confer Degrees for new candidates in our County or nearby counties, if and when needed.

We have attended District area meetings whenever possible and time permitted and do enjoy each one of them.

Sister Betty joins me in wishing the very best for each of you in the months ahead of us.

Sincerely,
Ulyuss G. Rose, Deputy

SAN DIEGO COUNTY

Worthy Master, State Officers, Delegates, and Patrons:

During the past year, San Diego County has shown an 8 percent gain in total county membership. I believe the extra effort to get new members by most of the Granges during this, our Centennial Celebration, has borne fruit. It is our hope to still continue to grow.

Only our 5th degree team, composed of the Youth, and the Vista Grange 4th degree team have functioned this year. There are many Grangers who enjoy working on degree teams so we plan to have all degrees exemplified next year.

In addition to the 5th degree, the Youth of the county have taken an active part in the Youth activities of the State Grange and have worked hard at fund raising events to support their program.

A few of the Granges took part in the San Diego County Fair at Del Mar and took their share of the prizes.

We had 100 percent of the Granges in the county enter the Community Progress Program for 1965-67. Julian Grange placed in the top eight in the State competition.

We made a good start this year with our Officers' School of Instruction and hope to have even more success in 1968.

The Home Economics Committee continues its outstanding work in various Grange and community projects. There were many entries in the sewing contest this year and many awards were received.

The Credit Union continues to give service and benefits to its members and reports would indicate that the recent 'tight money' situation had shown many members that their Credit Union was able to meet their financial needs.

Jessie and I had the honor to install the officers of Pomona Grange and eight subordinate Granges at a joint installation. Julian Grange had a separate installation because of inclement weather. As usual, we had an excellent installing team to assist us.

Fraternally submitted,
S. E. Dick Rafter, Deputy,

SAN JOAQUIN - CALAVERAS COUNTIES

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

It is my pleasure to report for San Joaquin-Calaveras County. This being our National Grange Centennial year, the Granges in San Joaquin-Calaveras County have used this as a theme in planning their Grange activities. Many candle-light ceremonies and programs exemplifying our 100 years of existence have been presented during the year.

For the second straight year, we have shown a new membership gain and am pleased to report the French Camp-Lathrop Grange, under the direction of Louis Schultz, have formed an active Youth Group.

Attendance throughout the year at regular Grange meetings has been encouraging, high-lighted by 38 members attending this 95th Annual Session.

Continued participation in County fairs by Pomona and Calaveras Granges have been very successful and rewarding.

High-lighting many other activities was the purchase of a lot for a Grange hall by Stockton Grange.

Fraternally submitted,
Elmo Ward, Deputy

SAN MATEO COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

Having been appointed Deputy of San Mateo County last December by State Master J. B. Quinn, this is my first report on the four Granges in my district.

All Granges and H.E.C. in San Mateo County enter Fair Booths and take top prizes.

This year we were granted space to hold our first Pot Luck on Grange Day at the Fair. It was well attended by many dignitaries and visitors from other counties.

We received the Traveling Gavel from Santa Clara County and presented it to Contra Costa County.

We have put on the Degree Work in full form at least three times this year.

All three subordinate Granges and Pomona Grange hold a joint installation at alternate Granges. This year it was held at the Half Moon Bay High School.

I have been asked to instruct in Floor Work in my County and have done so to the best of my ability.

One Grange, meeting at an abandoned school house, lost all their possessions when the school burned to the ground. Many Granges have donated money and equipment to help them get started again.

Our Credit Union reports an increase in membership and is doing very well.

Rummage Sales have been held to raise funds.

I have visited all Granges in my County quite regularly and out of the county as much as possible.

Within my county, there are Clean-Up Days at the cemeteries, assistance at Blood Banks and at the Veterans Hospital. All H.E.C. Groups have adopted Veterans that they visit and remember with gifts on special occasions. The county hosts a refreshment booth on carnival day at the Veterans Hospital.

This being my first year as Deputy, I found the Deputies Conference especially helpful to me.

Fraternally submitted,
Joseph H. Marsh, Deputy

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Greetings:

It is now time for another State Convention and annual report.

During the past twelve months all the Granges in Santa Cruz County have held regular meetings. Some have made slight gain in membership but most have either stayed the same or lost a few. Each Grange has lost several members by death due to old age.

Aptos Grange has purchased an acre and one third of land with a building suitable for use as a Grange Hall. They are working hard with pancake breakfasts, rummage sales, card parties etc. to pay for their new home. They operated two food booths at the County Fair again this year and gleaned quite a profit.

They have also made quite a gain in membership this year.

Soquel Grange has given two one hundred dollar scholarships this year and have had card parties and rummage sales.

Santa Cruz Live Oak Grange do very well with their hall rentals and they have card parties, rummage sales and serve dinners for various clubs.

Roache Grange has a card party each month and do very well with their hall rentals; also they took Fourth prize in a feature booth at the County Fair.

Madonna Grange received Third prize on their feature booth at the County Fair this year and they have had rummage sales.

Corralitos Grange Hall is used by two different Churches each Sunday for Worship Services, they have also held rummage sales, had a food booth at the Country Fair held at Corralitos and took first prize on their feature booth at the County Fair.

Santa Cruz County Pomona Grange has been well attended through out the year. They have conferred the Fifth Degree twice in Santa Cruz County and once in Monterey County.

The Pomona Grange as well as the Pomona Home Economics Committee have held card parties this year to sponsor various activities.

At the January meeting I had the privilege of conducting a joint installation for all the Grange Officers in San Cruz County.

Fraternally submitted,
Russell Spain, Deputy

SANTA CLARA COUNTY

Worthy Master, State Officers, Delegates and Members of the Grange:

Greetings from Santa Clara County:

Santa Clara County held joint installation of 12 Subordinate and Pomona Granges December 4, 1966 at the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds. The installing officer was Emmett Ivey, State Lecturer, and Sister Hazel Ivey as Marshal. We had in attendance many State Officers and Masters and members of adjoining counties. As always the HEC provided beautiful decorations and refreshments under the leadership of Pomona HEC Irene Voss and all of the Subordinate Chairmen. Thanks to each and every one of you.

Masters' meeting was held January 15th and plans were made for the coming year, also chosen was the Membership Committee with Bro. John Ashley of Sunnyvale as chairman. Bro. John has put many hours and hard work into this program.

We had 10 Subordinate Granges, Pomona, Youth Group and Cupertino Junior Granges enter Agriculture booths in our county fair, all receiving premium money. The HE had four entries in the women's division, also receiving premium money. Grange Day, August 24th, was a pot luck in the evening, with Pomona Master, Edwin Terrell, as chairman, and enjoyed by a large crowd.

All of the Granges made their charity donations as well as contributing to the State Grange Building Fund. Our degree teams have been busy this past year, but our losses still seem to be greater than our gains. Let us all put forth a greater effort in 1968 to build our Grange membership. The Credit Union is sound and growing. I am very proud of my county entering the Community Progress Program again this year and all filing their final report. Pomona HEC Barbara Carter and all the sisters who take part in this program, namely Agnew State Hospital, Veterans Hospital in Palo Alto and The Goodwill Industries Doll Tea where 800 to 1000 dolls are sold for the rehabilitation of the handicapped. Many thanks to you all.

Sister Ruby and I wish to express our thanks to all of the Officers, Members of Santa Clara County Granges, it has been a please to serve you as your Deputy. Also, thanks for the many courtesies extended to us during the year and at our Golden Wedding Anniversary Reception. Also, thank you to our many friends in the adjoining counties for the invitations to their festive occasions.

With every good wish for a pleasant and constructive 95th Convention at Riverside, California.

Fraternally submitted,
John W. Buck, Deputy

SISKIYOU COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Greetings from Siskiyou County—at the top of the state.

It is my pleasure as deputy to report on Grange activities of this county.

There are eight subordinate Granges, many of them located in isolated areas, where the Grange plays a very important part in community life.

Several Granges have entered in the Community Progress Program and have accomplished a lot for their local areas.

Each Grange has worked for a membership gain in this centennial year, resulting in a very substantial membership gain in the county. Most members taken in are of the married group.

Many of these young members are taking an active part accepting officers, serving on drill teams and working on Fair booths.

Several Granges entered feature booths at the fair in Siskiyou County winning valuable awards. They also take a keen interest in local and county activities, some sponsoring 4-H clubs, others awarding worthwhile scholarships.

The Siskiyou County Credit union is making constant growth, serving many of our members.

Officers for 1968 are now being elected and installations of officers has already begun.

We in Siskiyou County look forward to a new Grange year with enthusiasm.

Booster nights are being planned, open to the public, thus we can tell the Grange story to prospective patrons.

The Home Economics Committees are active, doing a splendid job in their respective Granges, giving dinners, card parties, rummage sales and in general, trying to carry on the State Grange H.E.C. program. We have several entries in the sewing contest.

It is my hope, that Siskiyou County will have good representation at this 95th session of the California State Grange.

Best wishes for a successful and pleasant convention in Riverside.

Fraternally submitted,
Vayne O. Ralston, Deputy

SONOMA COUNTY (NORTH)

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

The National Grange membership drive is completed and I take great pleasure in stating that the Granges in the Northern half of Sonoma County all have taken in new members and I sincerely hope that we may show a net gain!

Two Granges entered booths in the Sonoma County Fair and received cash prizes. Sonoma County Pomona Grange was very active this year, entering a float in the Santa Rosa Rose parade and also a rest booth and information center in the Sonoma County Fair. Bodega Bay Grange held their annual crab cippino with several thousand Grange members and friends from far and near. Several bus loads from South of San Francisco came.

Brother and Sister Quinn and other State Grange officers attended our pot luck Grange da luncheon at the Sonoma County Fair.

The Grange Credit Union and Grange blood club are still growing with new members and a good capitol gain over the past year.

All the Granges in the Northern half of Sonoma County have very active H.E.C. committees and are making money for their respective Granges.

Fraternally submitted,
Thomas Wright, Deputy

SOUTHERN SONOMA COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange, "Greetings":

Another year of Grange activity has passed into history, and many accomplishments have been attained, but we must ever keep pressing forward to better our Order.

The eight Granges in southern Sonoma County have been active during the past year. The last State Grange quarterly reports did show a good gain in membership.

In December, it was my pleasure to conduct a joint installation of Officers of 16 Subordinate and one Pomona Grange in Sonoma County. The installation was held at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Sebastopol.

On February 23rd, through February 28th, I was placed with the responsibility of entertaining ten (10) people from foreign countries. I placed these people in various Grange homes in Sonoma County and arranged tours for our visitors for the five days they were here. These people were all amazed with our Grange hospitality in Sonoma County.

Booster Night programs were well attended and have been interesting and constructive. There were as many as (25) non-Grangers attending these programs.

Best wishes for a pleasant and constructive 95th State Grange Convention.

Fraternally submitted,
John B. Freitas, Deputy

STANISLAUS COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

I bring you greetings from Stanislaus and Tuolumne Counties, which will probably be my last report.

I have enjoyed being a State Deputy but after about 20 years of service, I have asked the State Master to be relieved of my duties. I will help his new Deputy in any way that I can.

Our Granges are doing very well. In this Centennial year we have made some gains. Waterford Grange having the highest number of new members. Sonora, in Tuolumne County has a fine Junior Grange. All Home Economics Clubs have been busy with their usual projects—assistance to 4-H clubs and Scouts. Also much hospital work and hall improvements.

Our members take advantage of the benefits of C.P.S. Grange Insurance, G.B.O. and Grange Credit Union.

We had our usual fine booths at the County Fair and also our Pomona Grange Kitchen, which has always been a great success.

I hope to see a lot of our members here at Riverside.

Fraternally submitted,
Alfred H. Bolter, Deputy

SUTTER COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange:

Greetings from Sutter County:

May the Ninety-Fifth Annual Session of the California State Grange be a most successful session. The delegates from the three Subordinates and Pomona Grange have been selected and plan on attending if the crops are in. We are three weeks behind schedule, so some may be absent. Tho we hope not.

I, as deputy have visited very religiously the Granges under my jurisdiction and have helped out on many occasions.

Our installation was held at Bogue Hall, Yuba City, General Sutter Grange being the host. Brother Earle Harper of Rough and Ready Grange being the Installing Officer.

Sutter County was host to the District Two Home Economics Conference held at Bogue Hall. The conference was very well attended.

Sutter County was well represented at the Lecturers Conference at Thermalito Grange, Butte County.

Sutter County Granges did not take part in the Yuba-Sutter Fair as in the past.

General Sutter has a Centennial Festival scheduled and it should be very good. Sutter County participated in the Dobbins picnic but few attended because of the busy work schedule of our members.

I, along with several of our members have made visitations to different Granges on occasions. Ostrom Grange to view degree work, Wheatland Grange instituted and ceremonies. Yuba Sierra Pomona Grange, and the dedication of the new Indian Valley Grange hall. All of these visitations were most interesting and worth while.

I am happy to report that all the Granges have shown a slight increase in membership over the past year, which is enlightening.

I had the privilege to install several Granges this year: Calaveras Grange, Marshall Grange, Butte County Pomona and several of Butte County Subordinate Granges. Each installation was an experience in itself. But perhaps the thing I enjoyed most was telling Grange friends of our new son. He is such a joy to us all. A real trooper I must say. I just had to put that in.

I have enjoyed all phases of Grange work and felt privileged to serve as a Deputy.

TULARE COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Greetings from Tulare County:

Again we come to convention time. Another year has gone by and with it our National Grange Centennial.

We started after 1966 convention with most of the Granges in Tulare County again having their own installations. Two Granges and Pomona Grange had joint installations. I had the honor of installing all these officers.

We then held a Masters and Officers meeting at Tulare Grange Hall. State Master J. B. Quinn was with us at this meeting. We conducted officers instruction and Grange ritual. This meeting was well attended and I am sure such instructions are helpful to all.

We continued our contest of Grange membership and Grange attendance. This contest was won by Tulare Grange with the most net gain in members and West Visalia won the attendance award with over 50% of their members at meetings. This contest seemed to create more interest in all our Grange work, and we showed a net gain in membership the past year.

Pomona Grange with the help of all the Subordinate Granges of Tulare County and Kings County Pomona and Subordinate Granges again sponsored the F.F.A. Speaking Contest.

During the summer West Visalia Grange was host to a group of Farmers from Pakistan. This seems to be a yearly affair with them. I think meeting with these people we can have a better understanding with people from all parts of the world.

The H.E.C. committees are doing their fine work as always with their projects. Porterville and Dinuba Granges are working on their Penny Pines project, each to seed one acre of our National Forests.

Pomona Picnic was held in Dinuba this year and was well attended.

Several Granges have fine degree teams and have conferred the degrees during the year. The officers of Pomona Grange conferred the fifth degree in September.

Sorry to report Alpaugh and West Visalia both dropped from having booths at the Tulare County Fair this year.

We hope they can again take this up next year, also other Granges.

Grange Day at the Tulare County Fair this year was well attended. Also our Grange dinner at the fair with many of our county officials present. Our principal speaker at this dinner was Jack Berry of the California Grange News. He spoke of membership and what the Grange means to us as members. On this occasion we celebrated our National Grange Centennial by wearing Centennial clothes. A prize was given to the best judged costume of a man and woman.

Booster Night programs were well attended this year and have been very interesting programs, with many more Grangers attending.

Sister Neilson and myself have attended both Deputy Conferences the past year and enjoyed them very much. Also attended many Grange meetings throughout the year.

We wish to thank the officers and members of Tulare County for the many courtesies this past year. It has been a pleasure working with all of you and we wish the next year will be even more fruitful. If at any time I can be of service of any kind I will be glad to help what ever I can do. Again thanks.

Wishing the California State Grange a very successful convention in Riverside.

Fraternally submitted,
Samuel Neilson, Deputy

VENTURA COUNTY

Worthy Master and Delegates of California State Grange:

Convention time has rolled around again and I must make another report.

The Ventura County Granges have all made some progress. Our largest problem at this time is Moorpark Grange. We are still hoping they can gain some new members. All the Granges are working on community service projects and all but Moorpark had fair booths at the County Fair.

Fillmore again took first prize in the 200 foot class; and Ojai took second; and La Avenida, 4th.

The Pomona Grange for the first time lost the first prize and won third, but we had some professional competition.

Ojai Valley has taken in new members at almost every meeting and will show some gain for the year. The rest have taken in some new members and I hope will stay about even.

We in Ventura County have not held any election of officers, but will be doing this in the next two months. More and more people are asking about our various insurance programs.

There is a lot of interest in Ventura County in the State Convention at Riverside and many from the county are planning to attend, and several will be taking the Sixth Degree.

He hope this convention will be a great success. There will we know, be many important resolutions that will have some effect upon the future of agriculture in the State of California. And we believe our usual deliberations upon these resolutions will decide the outcome of important future legislation.

Respectfully submitted,
Orval M. Stubbs, Deputy

YUBA COUNTY

Worthy Master, Officers, Delegates, and Members of the California State Grange.

To begin the Grange year in Yuba County, a joint installation by Earl Harper of Rough and Ready Grange was held at Brownsville Grange.

The installation ceremonies were wonderful. At that time the officers renewed and confirmed their pledge in the Grange and were instructed about their duties. The duties of the officers of Yuba County were carried out very well in 1967.

All Granges in Yuba County have membership committee chairmen and all have shown a gain in membership.

The Lecturers have had a perfect record of sending in their reports to the State Lecturer of the California State Grange. Their programs at each meeting have been constructive.

The Home Economic ladies have worked very hard this year and have shown very fine results in their Harvest Festivals and other activities.

The Ostrom degree team has again been outstanding in Yuba County. The degree team has also traveled to surrounding counties.

The Grange Day picnic was held at the 4-H camp in Dobbins. The picnic was sponsored by Butte, Sutter, Placer, and Yuba counties. This was a wonderful way to keep our Grange ties intact.

Our Pomona Grange put on the fifth degree at the May meeting.

The Grange Credit Union has shown a substantial gain and the insurance program has also increased.

Another high light for Yuba County was the new Wheatland Grange No. 811 which was organized in February. The officers of Wheatland Grange were installed by Earl Harper.

There were 125 Grange members from several counties attending the installation to honor the new Grange. Wheatland Grange is increasing their membership. Their Home Economic ladies are quite active.

In making this report, I feel Yuba County has accomplished a great deal. Their plans for the year 1968 are also very promising.

Homer Stevens, Deputy

The Rank and File were represented by a scroll, and a floral tribute laid in token of their service to the Order. A special floral tribute was presented in honor of Brother Craig Hazlewood, former editor of The California State Grange News; also for Dr. Carle Fiedler, former Youth Director of the State Grange. For Wendell L. Smith, past State Executive Committeeman, a special tribute was given.

As the roll call was given, an electric cross was lighted on the beautiful tableaux and the names inscribed in the Book of Life.

Beautiful music presented by the Sun City Choir, their director Joseph Waugh sang several special solos. Sister Evelyn Fidler of Yucaipa Grange was the organist.

Chaplain Leta Littler, in her Memorial address, stressed the great necessity of an abiding Faith in the Principles of Divine Authority in our personal, fraternal and national way of life.

Following Taps, God Be With You Till We Meet Again sung by the choir, concluded the services.

REPORT OF CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE

Worth Master, Officers and Members of the California State Grange.

Again it has been our pleasure to serve you on your Credentials Committee. In many ways we consider this the most interesting registration we have worked with. Every one was very co-operative and we think the registration was a smooth operation. Early arrivals helped immeasurably.

We thank you for this opportunity to serve all of you, and I wish especially to take this means of thanking the members of the committee who did the work and also those who so willingly helped in the "heavy" work which I was unable to perform.

Sincerely,
 Ulyss G. Rose, Chairman

HOME ECONOMICS COMMITTEE REPORT

Worthy Master, State Officers, Brothers and Sisters:

In this important year in Grange history we chose as the theme for 1967, COOPERATION, in "The Spirit of '67" (The National Grange Centennial). I am very happy to be able to report that there certainly has been fine COOPERATION both in State and National programs. However, the future of the Grange in California depends, to a great extent, on the COOPERATION between Grange and the Community in which it is located. Our Agricultural areas are slowly being compressed so we need to do even more in the years to come to be an important part of the Community. At the same time always striving to help the Rural areas to maintain themselves.

Most of the Home Economics Committees have again increased their participation in many parts of our programs. Contributions to various Welfare or Charity funds have amounted to $29,205.48. This includes $727.07 to the CARE-Grange project, to provide tools and education to Young Farmers in India. Meals for Millions has seen an increase this year, with a total of $1,729.17 having been sent in since October 1st 1966. This will provide enough MultiPurpose to provide approximately 57,639 meals. While these two projects are National and Statewide projects, locally the projects to which the various Home Economics donate time and money are many. Aid to young people, who want to continue their education, is given by many and during this past year $8,427 was reported as being used to provide at least 88 scholarships.

This was the last year we were to include contributions to a special National project through the Home Economics Committee all over the United States. This is to raise a sum of $25,000 to be presented at the Centennial Session, to the National Grange to help retire the debt on the National Grange Building in Washington. Although we only included this project, as a part of the California HEC program, for three years it was carried on Nationally for four years. During the past three years we have contributed $1,712.87 to this fund . . . this will not be included in our 1968 Home Economics program. We have also made a contribution of $100.00 to this fund from the money we have received from the sale of our cookbooks. This was made with the approval of the District HEC Chairmen and the California State Grange Executive Committee.

One of the main projects in California is to retire the debt on our own State Grange Headquarters building, as soon as possible. While most of the contributions are sent directly to the State Grange Secretary, there has been a number of contributions which have been made by Home Economics Committees and sent through the State Home Economics. This has amounted to $784.40 since October 1st 1966.

At our last convention I reported that we had just completed paying to the State Grange the cost of 30,000 copies of "Our Favorite Grange Recipes" cookbooks. From money to be made by selling the cookbooks we planned to pay a sum of approximately $11,000 into the State Grange Building Fund. This was to pay for all the new furniture, drapes, and landscaping. I am so very happy to be able to report to you that we have turned in a little more than $8,500.00 toward this sum. Each of you who has either sold or bought these books has helped with this project and my personal thanks go to you. It has been and still is a wonderful project. The books are still selling very well, and I have received so many interesting stories of where these books have been sent, here in the United States and to many Foreign Countries.

In spite of all the difficulties we had at the beginning of the National Grange Cotton Sewing Contest I was surprised with the results in California. We had a total of 729 entry blanks sent in. Then the Rules were not received when they should have been and so I'm sure there were a number of you who waited until it was too late to finish your dress. We did end up with 453 entries in the contest. We did not have a National winner this year but each of you who entered a dress had a very nice dress to wear when the contest closed. Do try again next year. It isn't always the winning of the contest that is important but how you have been able to improve your skill in sewing.

This is the third and last year for the Grange Historical Sampler contest and I want to thank each of you who worked so hard to make one for this last contest. Our 1st place will be sent back for National judging. Again we are giving prizes of $15, $10, and $5 to winners in the Sampler contest. We had 10 entered this year.

Our State HEC Cookie contest is being held again this year for fun and to benefit a good fund. We ended up by giving prizes for four classes of cookies in 1966 and paid for the prizes from the sale of the cookies after they had been judged. This year again the contest has four classes. We were able to put $100.50 into the Mabel Glenn Memorial Fund from the sale of the cookies. This is the fund in which we are keeping the money to be used when it comes time for California Granges to celebrate their Centennial.

By the time I give this report to the Delegate body, many of you will have gone into the HEC room and looked over the many examples of "Cooperation" as shown in the Plaques.

These are done on the county or Pomona level, with each Grange being represented. Each of these tell an interesting story of the activities of the Granges in that area. Thrift or Craft items are limited to three from each County or Pomona but be sure to look them over. See how many articles can be used which we might normally expect to throw away, such as plastic bottles or containers, scraps of material and odds and ends of every kind. Of course some are made from new material. Some are practical, some are pretty or artistic and all are interesting.

As we think of this being the 100th anniversary of the National Grange, we should be more aware than ever that each year represents a year of history in each of our Granges. We have invited each HEC to bring either the History book or Scrap book, which gives the history of their Grange. Unless these books are kept up to date some of the interesting history of the individual Grange may be forgotten or lost.

Our Women's March money once again will go to the Student Loan Fund. $1,602.94 was turned in at the convention last year. $12.50 came in shortly after the convention and it was sent on over to the State Grange Secretary. Once the Convention is over any money for this fund can be sent to the State Secretary.

The Home Economics Committee very often helps to provide the necessary funds to send delegates to the convention. It is very important that as many Granges as possible be represented, if the State Grange Master is to know what kind of a program you want carried out for the following year. I'm happy that so many of the Home Economics Chairmen are able to attend the sessions also. I appreciate their moral support there.

During this past year the HEC Quarterly Reports have indicated that $14,688.77 was put aside for delegate's expenses. I'm sure that the HEC helped a good deal with this.

While in most of the HEC Districts the various Chairmen very faithfully make out and file a Quarterly Report of the activities of their committee and of their Grange, there are a few who probably do not realize how important the report is. Once a year we ask for another report to cover the entire year. This is the National Grange Recognition Report. We still are not receiving enough of these to let the National Chairman realize just how much our Home Economics Committees and Granges are doing. I received 50 Subordinate reports this year. The first place report has been sent on to the National Grange HEC Chairman for further judging. Only 10 Pomona Reports were received. We should have many more of both Subordinate and Pomona Reports.

First place in this contest went to French Camp-Lathrop Grange, Myrna Thomas Chairman; second place was Rubidoux Grange, Harriet Berry Chairman; and third place winner was Elk Grove Grange, Bernice Kidd Chairman. An Honorable Mention was given to Guenoc Grange, Zela Work Chairman. The first place Pomona Report came from Sonoma Pomona Grange, Florence Barnes Chairman.

In the report of the State Home Economics Chairman credit has been given, as much as possible, for all the fine work of the Committees of California. Yet we find that often some outstanding project has been carried out and no mention of it has been made in either the Quarterly Reports or a Recognition Report. We hope that you will remember that we may be missing something fine as we make the report to the National Grange, if it is not in a report to the State.

Many needy families have been helped by the contributions of Grange people. Families burned out have had many things given to them. Our women are spending a lot of time and quite a bit of money, in working with the patients in various hospitals. Sewing for patients, particularly in Mental Hospitals, takes up a lot of time. Money alone does not allow these things to be done. It takes a lot of time and effort and a wish to do things for people who are less fortunate than we may be.

Cancelled Stamps are still being sent to Mrs. Muriel Moe for the cancelled stamp project. This project is a way to help provide funds to help stamp out TB. She gives the Grange women credit for 80% of the stamps she receives, to be sent on to Norway. There, after processing, they are packaged and then sold to stamp collectors, all over the world.

We have made contributions to the California Veteran's Home in Napa County, of things which they can use in their Hobby shop. Used eye glasses are also requested by them as well as some of the other hospitals. Some of our women send the Glasses to New Eyes for the Needy, Shorthills, New Jersey, as listed in the National HEC program.

We certainly encourage the women of the Grange to assist both the Youth Group of your Grange and your Junior Grange. One HEC Chairman reported that they had held a rummage sale and made $100.00 to be used to help their newly organized Junior Grange get started. We do not ask that the HEC be expected to be the main support of a junior Grange but they certainly should do everything they can to help the Juniors help themselves. Encouragement of the young people in the Grange can do much to make better feeling. Many of our Grange members seem to feel that the young people are not ready to hold an office because they don't come to every meeting. Maybe they have school work which must be done. How many of the older officers stay at home on occasion to watch television, so why criticize? Please do make the young married people feel welcome to come, even if they do bring the children. The Grange, in the past, always welcomed the family with young children so let's do this now.

District meetings during this past year have been well attended most of the time. Weather has affected the attendance at times and in the fall, fairs sometimes keep some of the women away. We held 26 District meetings and overall I think they have been well attended. Again I want to express appreciation for the support of the many Deputies and Masters who attend the District meetings whenever possible.

The reports this year indicate that $8,427.00 has been raised to give Scholarships to young people who want to go on to college. 88 have been reported as given. Agriculture, Home Economics, nursing are among the specific kinds of scholarships but many are for just general studies.

The money we gave to Cal Poly for two years and later for two years to Humboldt State College, is still doing the job it was intended to do. That is to help some girl who might have to drop out of school, usually near the end of a semester because she had run out of money. Two girls were helped during this past year at Cal Poly with a Grant of $100.00 each. This money is administered by the college and they are very careful not to waste it. Last year I reported that we were considering raising the maximum amount, which the college could give, from $100.00 to possibly $150.00 or $200.00. We have decided to leave it at the $100.00 amount, at least for the present.

Participation of our Granges in the County and District Fairs is an important part of our COOPERATION with the community. Without this participation, many of the Fairs would be much less interesting, at least as far as Agricultural exhibits are concerned. We need to keep the public reminded that Agriculture is still the most important industry in California.

I want to express my appreciation to all of the District HEC Chairmen, who work so very hard here at the convention, and during the past year, to take care of all the details of the HEC work. Without them it would be impossible to have the display we have, to have the conference on Monday afternoon and again on Wednesday morning. To Brother and Sister Quinn for their interest and wonderful support, for the many times Sister Quinn has given her time to travel to District meetings with me and to both of them for inviting me to go with them to many meetings I could not otherwise attend. I appreciate the cooperation of support of the Executive Committee, whenever I have gone to them for help.

In closing I would like to leave you with this thought:

"The little lamps of friendship we light along the way,
Go shining on far down the years and brighten every day,
It is love that keeps them burning in sympathy and trust,
God helps us that no lamp goes out because we let it rust."

Fraternally submitted,
Gladys True
State HEC Chairman

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF JUNIOR GRANGES

Worthy Master, State Officers, Delegates, and Brothers and Sisters of the California State Grange.

Each year we look forward to our annual convention and express our appreciation and to pay tribute to those who are giving of their time and efforts to Junior Grange Work. By working with the JGs, we are preparing the Grange for the second century of service. The main purpose of a Junior Grange is to train the children on our work, so that when they do affiliate with the parent Grange they shall be able to do the work well. Now is the time to think of the future, and our future means our children. The Grange is a family fraternity, therefore, we all should work toward forming more Junior Granges, whereby we can develop good citizens, train for leadership abilities, stimulate appreciation of the family, home, and community and to create a better understanding of and between people.

Knowing that a Junior Grange is the foundation of the Granges future, I am pleased to report this year three new Junior Granges were organized and one reorganized, more could of been organized if adults could have been secured for Matrons and Patrons.

Our theme for the past year, "this is the time to sow the seed of enthusiasm, dedication, world understanding and service," has been inspiring. This report is only a partial summary of their achievements, which show active interest and well planned programs of special interest were carried out.

In the first quarter under "Enthusiasm," we tried to create enthusiasm among the members by working together on the State and National Grange projects, by so doing, we had one of the largest displays at the California State Fair this year. A total of 232 individual entries were made in the seven categories, and 6 feature booths, each booth carried an appropriate theme, and served as a good lesson to all that viewed them. Premiums amounting to $414.00 was awarded, and 14 Honorable mention ribbons were given out. With so great a competition and outstanding work, we felt that every member who had an entry and did not receive a ribbon should get some recognition, with the permission of the State Grange executive committee, we had made and able to present 117 certificates of merit to these members.

I am sorry that we do not have all of the exhibits and booths on display at the convention, however we do have a few, and invite all to view them in the HEC room.

Enthusiasm was created by visiting other Junior Granges, and to assist them with the degree. By planning picnics, beach parties, and Easter egg hunts together.

All but two reported the joy of giving time and talent to nearby rest homes, and making and taking gifts to brighten the day of a shut-in.

The second quarter, "Dedication," we started for perfection in Ritualism, to confer or exemplify the degree. We encouraged more of the JGs to participate in the National Grange super JG pin and guard award project, whereby they must learn all of the speaking parts in the opening and closing of the Grange, the Junior pledge, the Master's portion of the degree work, including the secret work, and make at least a grade of 80% on a Grange quiz of 50 questions, which consist of questions on parliamentary procedure and the fundamentals of Grange work.

Last year we had only 4 JGs enter this project, this year 27 JGs applied for the first year pin, and 2 received a second year guard. 35 members qualified for the Junior merit award certificate and first year seal. This project is designed to meet the need of an award program for all age groups. I am happy to report that the National Grange asked permission to use this project on a Nation wide basis, as the work in this project was taken from the "Red Books" that the JGs in California have been using. Instead of the certificates and seal, we give our JGs, who meet the requirements, a bar for the first year, and an emblem to attach to bar for the next 4 years.

Four reported on membership drives, and a gain of 30 new members was noted.

The third quarter "World Understanding," we focus attention on how important it is for the children to understand how the people of other countries live. To accomplish this, some of the JGs made a scrapbook of other countries, while others asked for a name of a international pen pal. These letters received were read at the meetings. $28.00 was contributed to the Greek team, this is a self-help project with the World Council of Churches. This money will go toward building a school for girls.

The fourth quarter, "Service." We stressed the importance to feel that the wants and needs for others makes for a better citizen. Some of the projects were collecting of stamps to buy milk for orphans, assist the Vol. Fire Dept. in a fund raising drive, made scrapbooks for the mentally retarded children, collect eyeglasses for the new eyes for the needy, saved Vet. dogs food coupons to help a blind person get a seeing eye dog, plant and take care of the grounds around the Grange Halls, assist the Subordinate Grange with programs, aid in keeping the roadside free of litter. Three Junior Granges raised the sum of $68.00, for their own acre, in the Penny Pine Plantation, while others are donating toward a State wide fund, this acre will bare a sign "Junior Grangers of California."

They all help the needy and enjoy doing so.

All of the JGs are self supporting.

Money making projects this year were: Rummage sales, food sales, spaghetti dinners, making items and sold at the bazaars, selling of candy and jewelry. Booths at the State and County Fairs, parades. Some won money others received trophies, and coin marches.

Ten were graduated into the Subordinate Grange, and each received a diploma and white Bible.

Three HEC chairmen sent in a report to our State HEC Chairman Sister Gladys True.

Four reported that they had parents of the Junior Grange take out applications to join the Subordinate Grange. A total of nine parents were gained in the Subordinate Grange.

We had seven Junior Granges enter the National Grange achievement project, each Grange will receive a certificate, and the Matron or Patron a personal Achievement Certificate of Merit.

The winning state report will enter the National Contest. The winner for California was the Redwood Valley Junior Grange No. 174.

This project plus the Super JG quiz, and Junior Grange program are on display in the HEC room. Please take the time to read them over, and judge for yourself if we are merely baby sitters.

The State winners in the National Grange seed picture contest went to Harold Paris from the Martinez Junior Grange in the five through nine age group and in the 10 through 14 age group was Lu Ann Fraguero, Sonora Junior Grange.

We are thankful to all who provided special services, in the JG work. To Brothers Ernie Dunish and Walter Bailey, who worked so hard to see that we had ample space for our exhibits at the State Fair. To Sister True, for her assistance in helping with the JG exhibits. The HEC for the financial assistance, the Executive Committee for allowing money for the prizes given at the State convention, and for certificates of merit, and to all of the Matrons and Patrons for your patience and leadership in training these young minds in the priceless value of citizenship, decency and progress, and to all of the Granges who extended invitations to attend their meetings and to express my regrets to those which I was unable to attend.

The year 1967 has been by far the busiest of all the years I have served as Junior Grange Superintendent, but it has been a personal pleasure and privilege to serve this great family organization. We are looking forward to a brighter future, and with the continued support of all it shall be obtained.

In closing, I leave this thought with you.

In earnest thought of what we owe, to our Founders of long long ago,

Is teach our lessons to children so fine,

So that our Grange will live and its light shine.

A seed, a dream and a child we must cherish,

If we do not, our organization will parish,

For truly—the key of the future,

Are cast in the molds of today,

This is a challenge, don't let the children slip away,

Let us all be a Granger, staunch and true,

Remember Folks, the future of the Grange depends on you.

Fraternally submitted,

Eve Rowe,

Junior Grange Superintendent

CALIFORNIA STATE GRANGE YOUTH REPORTWorthy Master, Officers, Delegates and Friends,*

This has been a year of transition for the youth of the California State Grange. The loss of Dr. Fiedler was one that was felt by all who are connected with the Grange.

Brother Duane Upson and myself have endeavored to carry on the fine work established by our departed Brother.

The youth conference at Cal Poly last Easter was well attended by both the youth and their advisors. Several new Subordinate and Pomona youth groups have been formed. We have strived to have a full program of events for the youth at this convention.

Brother Duane Upson presented on behalf of the California State Grange an award to the outstanding Vo-ag teacher at the annual Young Farmers Convention in Santa Rosa.

The youth have worked on many projects for the betterment of themselves and the Grange. We all work toward better cooperation with the FFA, FHA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Young Farmers, Young Homemakers, Camp Fire Girls and many others. Many Granges sponsor some of these groups and provide meeting halls for them as well as awards for some of their projects.

This relationship adds strength to the Grange as well as the other groups. Our motto is Progress—our goal is Fellowship, Activities, Fun, Recognition, Leadership, Service, Membership.

I wish to express my deepest thanks to the many advisors and to the youth themselves who helped with the program throughout the year. A special thanks to Sister Marge Bley for her help here at the convention. Also a vote of thanks to Sister Nellie Jones of New Era Grange for making the robes for the 5th degree team.

George Schmidt,
Acting Director of Youth Activities

REPORT OF CALIFORNIA STATE GRANGE NEWS

Worthy Master, Officers, Delegates and members of the California State Grange.

In the years that Craig Hazlewood served as Editor and Business Manager of the California Grange News, he and his staff built an outstanding newspaper for the California State Grange.

There are few organizations served twice a month by a newspaper of such size and coverage—forty pages in all, with a Northern California Section, Central California Section and Southern California Section. To build this paper took many years of devoted attention and hard work.

It's a privilege to follow Craig in this position and, hopefully, to continued making progress with the California Grange News.

Our primary goal is two-fold—to give you, the readers, a continuing report on Grange activities at the national, state and local levels, and to give you good news coverage of developments in agriculture. We aim too to give you current reports of legislative developments in agriculture and other areas of concern to Grange members. As space permits, our goal is also to carry other specialized news of interest to groups within our readers—news on hunting and fishing, women's activities and interests, reports on state and local fairs and their progress with special emphasis to agriculture.

There is still another goal, of importance to this and any newspaper, and that goal is to publish a paper that is interesting to the readers. We are working on this in a number of ways—by working to give you the most important of the news of interest to you, by developing special features, by further departmentalizing the newspaper giving you not only an editorial page and women's page, but also a farm and business page; and by special emphasis on pictures—making them as timely and interesting as possible.

One of the great services our Grange News offers is the large regional center section with the opportunity for each Pomona and subordinate Grange to report its activities for the benefit of all. We extend our thanks to all of the scribes who regularly report the activity and news of their grange and their area. Without them it would not be possible to give the broad coverage of Grange activities throughout the state. We invite those who are not now sending in regular reports to do so and we assure you that the news will be used. Each report received is logged in by our staff, and used in turn. Because of space limitations, this sometimes means a lag before the news appears, but you can be sure it will appear as soon as possible. We urge you to send pictures of special events and activities, giving attention to the quality of the picture using a commercial photographer is best, and trying as possible, to make the picture be something of special interest—in general a picture with two or three people and interesting action, object or background. This type of picture will stand the best chance of being used, because it will be of most interest to all of our readers. We cannot use color pictures.

Now, as to the financial aspects of publishing the California Grange News. You've heard this before, and I'm sure you'll hear it again. Your newspaper is largely supported by advertising revenue—it's the lifeblood that keeps the Grange News coming to you in its full size. We are presently making strides to gain more state and national advertisers and we expect to be getting favorable results. But, perhaps more than ever before, we need the help of all of you in stimulating local advertisers to use the California Grange News. We believe they will receive full value—it is certain they will if you, our subscribers, are reading the paper and are conscious of who our advertisers are in your area. It will help more if you tell them you have seen their ad; and it will be an even greater boost if you save their sales slips for our 1968 Booster Barrel contest, and tell them you're doing so. We are fortunate to have outstanding advertising sales representatives for the California Grange News. These include Howard Herbes, our Southern California advertising manager, who is with us today; Jack Galvin, Northern California representative; Ed Weber, also with us today, and Don Otley of Redding. Many of you are giving these representatives assistance in your area. We thank you and, at the same time, urge the continuing support of all Granges, so the Grange News can continue to grow in service to you.

We are pleased to report that interest in the Grange News Booster Barrel contest continues to grow. For our part, we will continue to offer attractive, worthwhile and outstanding prizes, and to conduct the contest in as fair a manner as possible for all players. The 1968 contest begins at once. Full details will be announced in November.

There is another important program of the Grange News for members and their friends. This is the Grange News tours, offering outstanding trips with special features and at prices that could only be given because of the advantages of group participation. We urge you all to watch for the announcement of your choice—a short tour, perhaps, of some of the outstanding points of interest in the state or the west; or a longer tour to new places in countries throughout the world.

Right now we are completing a tour of special interest to Grangers—the California Centennial Caravans to the east coast for the centennial celebrations in Washington, D.C. and Gettysburg, and the Centennial Convention in Syracuse, N.Y. Both tours are exceptional. Time is short, but we have room for a few more on each caravan. We urge you to take this history making, once-in-a-century trip. We will be glad to give you further details in our Grange News office downstairs in this auditorium.

It's a pleasure to be serving you as Editor and Business Manager. As those of you who have visited our office, or have been in touch with our representatives in the field know, in all departments we have an excellent staff.

We are grateful for the guidance and support of State Master Quinn, our Editor-in-Chief, and the executive committee. We welcome suggestions from all of you. And we will do our best to bring you the kind of newspaper you will be anxious to receive and to read.

Fraternally submitted,

Jack S. Berry,

Editor and Business Manager

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATIVE

Worthy Master, J. B. Quinn, California State Grange, Worthy Overseer A. Lars Nelson, National Grange, Worthy California State Grange Officers, Delegates, Alternates and Grange Members:

THE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS

What a prosaic sounding title to a dull disteration on a dry subject. DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT!

Since the begining of TIME the Legislative Process has been the one sure way to get results!

A Baby is born.—He wails, he protests, he demands attention in no uncertain terms, and he gets results! It's up to you to solve his problem—to find out which end needs attention!

This is, of course a ONE-Man direct action committee. Shall I add, One Man One Vote? The next step in the Legislative Process, is to expand from the one member to many members on a committee with the fond hope that more numbers makes for a compromise that satisfies everyone. Boy, oh boy, what a Pipe Dream!

In spite of all the stories about, quote "That if you want to kill an idea appoint a committee to report on it, or "That a Compromise is the worst of all of the committee's ideas." These are "Old wives tales."

Now let's get down to specific cases.

1. Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776
Set forth many reasons why the Colonies declared their freedom from the Tyrannical King. Ben Franklin declared "If we don't hang together we will surely all hang separately!"
2. U.S. Constitution signed Sept. 17, 1787.
Many many compromises. Large States vs. small states. Large landholders vs. small ones.
3. There were prejudices and passions, personalities and persuasion, time and tide, recognition and renunciation, or personal ambitions, all of these enter into committee deliberations. Just as they do today in the California Legislature and maybe even here.
4. The Legislative Session (1967) as viewed from your Legislative Representative view point.
But first a few words of wisdom from old time Lobbyists.
  - a. It is many times easier to kill a bill than to get a DO PASS. One way to do this is to love it to Death through amendments.
  - b. Give me enough votes and I will pass any bill.
  - c. A Committee member absent is a NO vote.
  - d. The Chairman can decide which Bills will be heard.

Academic Vice President, California State Polytechnic College

Teach Them To Fish——And You Feed the World

All of you know how much progress American agriculture has made since the Grange organization was founded. The marvels accomplished by the farmers of America, in feeding our own growing nation plus a significant portion of the rest of the world, are an accomplishment you have shared.

The Grange has played a major role in the success story of American agriculture, and I hope that you as individuals and as members of the Grange will play a key role in the years ahead in bringing new agricultural techniques to the world's less developed countries.

Transcending all problems facing the world, with perhaps the exception of war and peace, is the desperate problem of inadequate food for the human family.

To some it seems almost inevitable that in the next thirty years many more people will die from hunger and malnutrition than have died in all of the wars of recorded history. This is a pretty grim picture! What can we do to reduce this prospective fantastic loss of human life?

I'm certainly not going to be so foolish today as to present any formula, or blueprint, or panacea for the growing food crisis, but I hope I will be able to fill in your thinking just a little bit on the magnitude of the problem.

To set the stage a bit—We have a world population of approximately 3.4 billion people. That number has increased in recent years by about a million a week—mostly in the less developed countries.

By the end of this century—the span of a generation—population experts tell us the world's population will be six billion. So, we're talking about almost twice as many people within the next thirty years. We must remind ourselves that already a substantial number of today's 3.4 billion people suffer from malnutrition.

That summarizes the population explosion. And much has been written and said about this, but frequently overlooked is an accompanying second explosive force which puts increased pressure on available food supplies. This force is the explosion of increased income—the rapid per capita rise in spendable cash, which is appearing, of course, mostly in the developed countries.

Before anyone thinks I'm an expert on population matters, let me say that professionally I'm not concerned with the population problem—only with providing educational opportunities for college-age people.

The desperate seriousness of the hunger problem today and in the foreseeable future was well illustrated recently by Roger Ravell of Harvard. Ravell says we should think of the world as a space ship—unconnected, hurtling through space with three billion passengers. We're insulated, our environment is contained; we can't afford to waste anything. But it's not a very happy ship.

One-third, one billion of the space ship's passenger list, is first class; they're well housed, well fed, well clothed, and well entertained. But two-thirds—two billion people—are in steerage where they don't have sufficient clothing, they don't have, perhaps, most importantly, hope.

And in consequence, these people have very little to look forward to in terms of one year to the next and their level of subsistence remains relatively the same. Thus the gap between the first class passengers and steerage is growing alarming.

Only one billion of the 3.4 billion people living on earth at this moment have a reasonably acceptable diet. Some 2.3 billion people are lacking almost everything, not only food, but shelter, water, and many other essentials.

What is particularly ominous is that the number within this group is growing at twice the rate of the satisfied group.

Now the first class passengers in the countries that are developed are in that first class for a variety of reasons, apart from their own resources and the numbers of people to work them, and the skills they've developed.

These countries have had one tremendous effect on the less developed countries and that is that they've dramatically lowered the death rates. This has automatically raised the population growth to one of gigantic proportions because with less children dying and more health programs, more people are living longer.

I might say parenthetically that the question of going into countries with a health program and so keeping people alive is against the solution to the increasing population problem. To some this is a dilemma. The moral answer is that we will continue to develop health programs in these countries.

This is a natural conduit to the people we must reach. It's right that we do so—the have the right to better health, to better education, and to more and better food.

We have a problem! We can't cover all of the details of this problem today, nor can we even be sure of getting it in the right perspective. But do this we must!

The parents of a college-age daughter received a most disturbing letter from her one day. The letter, I believe, will illustrate the importance of seeing things in proper perspective. The letter ran something like this.

"Dear Dad and Mom:

I thought I should write before you receive the bill from the hospital so you will not be too alarmed. Let me say first that I did manage to escape with only minor burns and a few fractures when my dormitory burned to the ground last week. And having nowhere to live, I know you will understand why I am now rooming with this very attractive and interesting student who so generously offered his quarters to me. While he is not exactly a Communist (I'd call him more of a practicing Marxist) and is from one of the more rebellious and underdeveloped nations, I know that you won't be too bothered about these facts, remembering those perfectly splendid liberal views of yours on politics and human relations. Yet I must face the possibility that it may upset you to hear that by the time I come home for the holidays I will have become a mother.

Love,
Betsy

P.S. None of these things happened. But I did get a D minus in Political Science and I flunked Math and just want you to see those grades in proper perspective!"

I dare to say our difficulty—in contrast to Betsy's—is that the clearer the perspective, and the greater our accuracy in perceiving what is going on in the War on Hunger, the more and not the less disturbing our circumstances will seem to be.

I was privileged to attend the National Foreign Policy Conference for Educators at the Department of State in Washington, D.C. last June. One of the speakers was Herbert J. Waters, a top administrator in the War on Hunger program of the Agency for International Development.

Herb Waters said: "I am convinced that for the long run, hunger may really be the world's Number One problem—even in these days of serious international tensions and military conflict. After all, the real peace we all seek must be more than just an absence of war. It must bring with it hope—and the opportunity for a better life, for all mankind. That is the real moral challenge of our time on this earth."

"Some 10,000 people, mostly children, will die before the sun sets today—and each day—from malnutrition and undernutrition."

"There is less food per capita in the world today than a year ago."

"For the past six years, the world has eaten up more basic food grains that we have produced. We have eaten up our so-called 'surpluses'."

"If present production, population, and consumption trends continue, the 'food gap'—that deficit confronting the less-developed countries—will reach 42 million tons of additional food grains needed annually by 1975 and 88 million tons by 1985 just to feed themselves at existing inadequate levels."

"The significance of these facts—in terms of world stability, peace, further economic progress—is plain."

Dr. Jacques May, a medical officer at the Nutrition Center in the Office of International Research, National Institutes of Health, makes a very striking point about the qualitative aspects of the world's food supply.

"There is increasing circumstantial evidence, Dr. May says, that the deprivation of certain nutrients, most probably proteins, in the years between birth and two years of age, could be the cause of considerable impairment of the cognitive faculties and learning abilities of children. The damage so caused seems to be irreversible, and cannot be made good by adequate diets at a later age."

Certainly we cannot fail to see the serious implications of this for the world's future.

Is the problem of feeding the world's population one for farmers alone? Certainly not. It falls as heavily on the educator, the engineer, the administrator and the financier as it does on the agriculturist. The burden is as great on the transportation expert, the food processor, and the manufacturer of containers and refrigeration equipment, as it is on the production farmer.

The time is long past when we could afford to educate an elite, while keeping the rest of the people in perpetual ignorance. We now live in an age of instantaneous communication, and even the remotest peasant is aware, or can be made aware, of what is going on in the world. Even total illiterates, and there are still millions throughout the world, can be reached through cheap transistor radios.

I have a strong feeling that the United States emphasis should increasingly be focused on technical assistance of this kind and involving the development of indigenous capabilities, the pushing of adaptive research, and involving education and institution building.

Recently, Herb Waters, whom I mentioned a few moments ago, in a speech to a national farm audience stated that "our efforts to stimulate agricultural production in the less developed areas of the world will not conflict with the interests of American farmers or American business marketing the products of American agriculture.

Quite the contrary, he said! "The quicker we can get other countries standing on their own feet, and less dependent on concessional sales of American agricultural products, the bigger total commercial markets we will have for our own agriculture."

Waters stated that "History has proved that by helping countries produce more of whatever they can produce efficiently for themselves, we help strengthen them economically so that they are better able to buy commercially whatever additional food they may require."

What I've been presenting up to this point, may have sounded mostly pessimistic. But there is an optimistic side, so we shouldn't over-simplify and jump to an erroneous conclusion.

Here is a story that illustrates one way to avoid erroneous conclusions.

The story is about three little old ladies—sisters—who lived together and whose chief interest and pleasure in life was charity. Knowing this, a friend remembered them in her will and left each $100, with the stipulation that it be given to a favorite charity.

One rushed out and gave hers to the Red Cross, the second gave hers to a children's care fund. The third didn't know just whom she wanted to help but as she was walking down the street she saw a ragged, dirty little man leaning against a lamp post. She felt so sorry for him that she pressed the entire $100 in his hand, told him "God speed!" and rushed on.

The next day she was surprised when the same man appeared at her door. Before she could say anything, he said, "Lady, I wish you hadn't been in such a hurry yesterday, I've had a hard time finding you. 'God Speed' won in the 4th race and paid 7 to 1—here's your $700."

We have to be careful not to jump to conclusions.

Robert Hutchins writing in the September 17, 1967 SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, spoke of the population problem in part, as follows:

Every time a social evil is identified, somebody is sure to suggest that nothing can be done about it until the people involved stop breeding or get educated or both.

History, Hutchins said, does not bear out the proposition that if there were fewer people there would be fewer problems.

Small, underpopulated countries, he says, have produced enormous disorders in an underpopulated world. Ancient, medieval and modern times disclose about the same proportion of poverty and disease, with the percentage varying, if at all, in favor of the contemporary world.

There is no such thing as a population problem in an absolute, abstract sense. Whether or not such a problem exists depends on circumstances. Malthus, Hutchins said, predicted in 1798 that the population of Italy could not exceed eight million.

If the conditions that existed at the time Malthus wrote had continued, his prediction might have come true, but the Industrial Revolution was omitted from his calculations.

David Eversley, the British expert, recently remarked on BBC: "What I do deny is that there is some magic optimum population, some figure we must aim at if we want to survive. The practicable maximum will depend on the state of technology and economic organization and on our success in planning the use of our land."

He went on: "What we must avoid at all costs is allowing our concern for our environment to assume the simple form of advocating stricter family limitation instead of getting on with the big task of making Britain a better place to live in—whether for 60 million or 80 million."

This is the point. Family limitation must not be used as an alibi for failing to get on with the big task of making the country or the world, a better place to live in.

Dr. George Hurah, the president of the Rockefeller Foundation, has stated the optimistic side very clearly, and let me quote briefly.

"The simple truth is," Dr. Hurah says, "we know enough now to transform the food production of the world. The earth today can produce at least three times what it is now producing on present arable surfaces by the known methods of conventional agriculture so far as scientific knowledge is concerned."

"There is no reason why any human being should not be well fed, and there is no longer any excuse for starvation. The stumbling block is man himself, his prejudices and misinformation, lack of education and ability to put to work the accumulated, scientific and technical knowledge that lies at hand."

Last June speaking to the Southwest Agricultural Forum in Tulsa, Oklahoma, on the topic "Agriculture — The Year 2000 A.D.," Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman described what some of the experts foresee for agriculture in the year 2000.

Some, he said, see the American farmer sitting in an air-conditioned farm office . . . scanning a print-out from a computer center . . . typing out an inquiry on a keyboard which relays the question to the computer . . . They foresee virus-free plants, bred by geneticists to give higher yields in a much shorter growing period and to mature at the same time. . . . The experts envision all the field work on this farm carried out by automated machinery, directed by tape-controlled programs, and supervised by television scanners mounted on towers. . . . They say robot harvesters will complete the farming operation with high-speed picking, grading, packaging, and freezing. . . . By the year 2000, optimistic visionaries say, this interplay will have become so successful that yields of today will be doubled or tripled. . . .

If it doesn't seem likely to you that tremendous production improvements can or will be made in the years ahead, consider for a moment some of the recent improvements.

In the past 25 years in this country, the production per farm worker has tripled. In the past ten years, farm production per man-hour has doubled.

Today, a third fewer people on farms harvesting one-ninth fewer acres, produce one-fifth more than a decade ago.

The average farm worker now supplies food and fiber for 39 persons, 22 more than he could less than a generation ago. In comparison, a farm worker in Russia feeds only seven and a farm worker in France only fourteen.

In four and a half decades, U.S. productivity per acre has increased 82 percent and output per breeding animal has almost doubled. One hour's farm labor now produces five times more than it did in 1921.

I just said that the average U.S. Farmer, as you well know, produces enough for himself and 39 others. The really top-notch American farmer produces enough for himself and 200 others. These are the California farmers who do this.

In Red China 85 per cent of the people work like slaves to provide a skimpy diet for themselves and the other 15 per cent. In Russia 50 per cent are still on the land.

The technological revolution in agriculture is really just beginning . . . the production potential it promises for tomorrow staggers today's imagination.

I was very much impressed recently by a two-page public-service type advertisement in one of our popular weekly magazines. One full page was a color picture of a family. On the opposite page in one inch high letters was this statement: THESE AVERAGE AMERICANS EARN 75c A DAY (75c-day for 365 days equals $273.75 per year).

In smaller print the ad went on to say: "They're Latin Americans. And that's what the average Latin American earns. It's little enough by any standards. But in this case, it's especially shameful. Because it points up the enormity of the Latin's struggle against long tradition of poverty, inflation, and revolution.

"The United States, of course, is helping through the Alliance for Progress. The Latins themselves are attempting to move things along by forming a Common Market. But these are essentially government-to-government programs, working from top down. It will take almost a generation before any substantial effects filter down to the common man. And he can't wait that long.

"The average Latin American is already eating less than he did 25 years ago. And with the highest birth rate in the world, he's expected to double his number in another 35 years.

"What he needs most is help on a more immediate level. And he needs it now. Not tomorrow. Private business is the logical source for that help."

Then the ad goes on to describe what this particular firm is doing in Latin America and concludes as follows: "Imagine how much more can be done if enough other companies create such programs. And they should. Because besides helping our neighbors, it's also good business."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman agrees with this position. Freeman recently told an international conference on agri-business: "If the world is to be saved from mass starvation, the agricultural industries of the United States must launch immediately a revolutionary program of investment in the agriculture of undeveloped nations."

I read a most interesting and lengthy article in the June 25, 1967 issue of the LOS ANGELES TIMES entitled "Prospecting Race to Tap Riches of Seas." In summary it said: "The world's oceans contain staggering wealth: enough fish to meet the world's protein requirement several times over, about 50 quadrillion tons of valuable minerals, immense metal and oil reserves. A growing interest in extracting this wealth has raised the federal oceanography budget from $21 million in 1958 to $409 million this year. It will go higher."

"If we can but learn to farm and harvest the seas, we need not fear starvation, even though the world's population should increase sevenfold." This frank statement was made in the recent book "Assault On The Unknown," by Walter Sullivan. The seas of the world, the author claims, are estimated to be more than twice as productive per acre as the land. In some areas the "crops" of plants and animals from the sea far exceed those of the densest Brazilian jungles.

Many developments have occurred in the last 15-20 years in the kinds of foods we eat. What will we be eating 10 or 20 years from now?

There already is a demand for more food that will be man-made from plant protein and extracted from the plant (say protein) which may be spun into fine hair-like filaments. These filaments can then be twisted into fibers and woven into the food you want. It may look and taste like bacon, ham or beef, but it is all man-made food.

Turn up your noses now but it is progress.

To those of us used to abundance, the spectre of a savage struggle for food and survival among hundreds of millions of people may seem farfetched.

Yet, as Secretary of State Dean Rusk testified before a Congressional Committee last year, "Unless we act now to meet the problem of hunger, we may have to act later to prevent people from seizing the food production resources of their neighbors."

Back through history, if famine existed in one part of the earth, it barely touched the rest of its people. That is no longer true. We live in a new era of rapid communication.

What happens in one quarter of the globe can no longer be ignored by the rest of the world—for the sake of our own security, as well as for the sake of humanity.

Hunger used to be the silent enemy of man. Starvation used to be the silent way of death. Not any more. Instead of silence, today it can mean a resounding roar of violence.

We can preserve our hard-won abundance only by bringing the havenots within the affluent society.

What is the most urgent problem that confronts newly developing countries? The foreign minister of Upper Volta, in West Africa, said simply:

"To have our people eat enough."

These six compelling words voice a basic aspiration of the world's hungry people who long to be self-sustaining. Here are a few examples of what can be done immediately:

More crops in Pakistan—A single agriculturist has upgraded crop production by at least 30 per cent in parts of Pakistan by using the right fertilizer.

More milk in El Salvador—Milk production rose 54 per cent when a U.S. dairy farmer reorganized 82 farms and set up 77 new ones. Within a year this Central American republic could double its milk supply if modern dairy methods and coolers were used to keep milk fresh.

More food in India—An American technician helped set up a processing plant to preserve fresh fruits and vegetables. Up to 50 per cent of them are now lost through spoilage after daily market sales.

Rodents, insects and fungi destroy enough grain each year to provide 250 million people with two pounds of grain a day. The wastage amounts to at least 93 million tons or 10 per cent of the 931 million tons of grains produced each year (outside the USSR).

For every person who benefits by such projects as I've just described, there are tens of thousands deprived of the technical knowledge that could turn unrelieved poverty into at least a modest standard of living.

The vastness of this world-wide problem should be a particular challenge to those of us who are blessed by abundance. Yes, the average American consumed nearly three quarters of a ton of food last year. The ordinary poor person in the Tunisian desert, for example, exists on 20 olives and a pound of bread daily, with the hope of eating meat two or three times a year.

These people with empty stomachs want more than a handout or a dole. They long to hold their heads high and to provide for themselves and their loved ones.

As one health officer in West Bengal, India, said: "People would rather do things for themselves than to have things done for them. What people do for themselves lasts; what is done for them is transient."

And I am reminded in this connection of the old proverb which says,

"If you give a man a fish, you feed him for a day, if you teach a man to fish, you feed him for a life time."

Eradicating hunger in a world with an exploding population is one of the most complex tasks that man has even set for himself. Putting a man on the moon is simple by comparison. That's an engineering problem, a difficult one, to be sure, but nevertheless an engineering problem involving relatively few skilled people.

Eradicating hunger in less developed regions means raising the productivity of the rural people of Asia, Africa, Latin-America—half the world's population. Seldom has history required that so much change be compressed into so short a time. This transition from traditional to modern agriculture has to be quick.

The list of causes your organization has championed is long and illustrious. I am confident that the Grange as an organization, and a large number of you as individuals, will make significant contributions to this critical food-hunger problem.

Nearly a century ago the Grange set forth in its Declaration of Purposes this primary goal:

"We desire a proper equality, equity, and fairness; protection for the weak; restraint upon the strong; in short, justly distributed burdens and justly distributed power. These are American ideals, the very essence of American independence, and to advocate the contrary is unworthy of the sons and daughters of an American Republic."

You are the successors to the early Grangers who wrote these words and who did so much for the cause of mankind in the hundred years that followed.

I urge you to keep up the good work!

REMARKS BY DONALD E. WILSON

Bureau of Agricultural Education and State FFA Advisor

It is a privilege for me to be with you here in Riverside to speak to you on the occasion of your youth recognition program in connection with the 95th annual session of the California State Grange.

The Grange has always strongly supported vocational agriculture and the FFA. Your support is greatly appreciated. Our program in California is growing. There are in our high schools and junior colleges over 21,000 young men and women enrolled in programs of vocational agriculture. There are a number of new programs this year.

The year 1967 has been one of growth and change in our program. Areas of emphasis include strengthening of our Agricultural Mechanics Program to include more emphasis on agricultural power and machinery. Our Future Farmers activities program has been expanded to provide for those students who will not necessarily be involved in production agriculture, but who will be employed in the agricultural sales and service area. We are having to pay more attention to our program of teacher education as we are in the midst of a teacher shortage.

We are becoming more involved in instructional materials programs to provide teaching materials that more nearly meet our needs here in California. We have had to provide much in-service training for our teachers in the area of grounds maintenance and ornamental horticulture. We have had to retread alot of animalhusbandry majors.

I shall mention to you several specific developments in schools that illustrate what is actually going on in our vocational agriculture programs.

Innovations in the field include a new and interesting program at Madera High School where course offerings in agriculture are organized on a three-track basis. Students, according to their needs, are counseled into one of the three tracks. One track includes a curriculum in agriculture designed for students who are continuing their education following high school. A second is designed for those students who will work in specialized areas for job placement immediately following high school. A third track includes a program designed for students with special needs.

Yuba City has broadened their program of vocational agriculture by offering a number of specialized courses including veterinarian assistant, heavy equipment operation, floral design, and rural recreation. Their program enrolls over 300 students in vocational agriculture.

At Ventura College a new one-semester certificate program in certain agricultural areas has been initiated.

Shasta College offers a program in Natural Resources with seven different options of occupational preparation.

We still have some problem areas in the state as far as location of agricultural programs is concerned. Lake and Mendocino Counties have real need for modern, effective vocational education porgrams in agriculture, forestry, and rural recreation. School boards and administrators in that area are shirking their responsibility to students by denying them these needed educational opportunities. We need community support and assistance in these areas. Metropolitan Sacramento and San Francisco are notably lacking in programs of ornamental horticulture and grounds maintenance despite obvious employment opportunities for young people in these areas. Anything the Grange can do to encourage vocational agriculture programs in these areas will be appreciated.

I have just returned from the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri where over 10,000 Future Farmers from the 50 states and Puerto Rico met for three days.

It was most refreshing and gratifying to see this large group of young men with not a long-hair in the bunch. It was my responsibility as a Member of the National FFA Board of Directors to assist with the convention. My duties had to do with security and cooperation with the Kansas City Police. We did not have one boy arrested during our stay and there were no incidents.

The Vice President of the United States addressed the convention for one hour and ten minutes and was enthusiastically received and welcomed. He departed with a standing ovation.

I cannot help but contrast this with the recent event here in California when the Vice President spoke before the student body of one of our state colleges and was picketed and many of the students walked out.

Now, this week we have the spectacle of students at Berkeley gathering on the campus and organizing illegal demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center.

You do not know how refreshing it is to be in contact with a group of young people who know what they want and what they are doing and who have respect for their national leaders.

We must give support to youth activity and leadership programs that develop these characteristics in young people. We must continue to encourage activities that assist in developing understanding and respect for our democratic system.

I have enjoyed your hospitality and the opportunity to visit with you this evening. I know that you will complete a most successful 95th Annual Session of the California State Grange.

ADDRESS BY JOE MARTINEZ

President, California Association of Future Farmers of America

"Challenges of the Future"

Master Quinn and members of the "Grange" it is indeed a pleasure for me to be here tonight and to extend to you the greetings of the California Association Future Farmers of America.

We Future Farmers realize how much the Grange supports us. This is support quite evident, especially in the resolutions you are considering related to the new State Fair. Some people do not know that for any youth organization to function at its optimum it must have adult support. We are truly appreciative of the cooperation and encouragement that the Grange extends to the Future Farmers.

We, in agriculture today, face some of the greatest challenges that have ever faced any agriculture! Little do we know of the hunger that faces the rest of the world. Tonight, fully one-half of the world's population faces hunger. Very few of us know of the torment that it is to go to bed at night hungry day after day. Over one million children will die from hunger this year. Countless other human beings will be left ravaged by the lack of proteins and poor diets. They will be weakened not only in their mental capacities but also weakened so that other diseases can play havoc with their lives. Truly this is a challenge that must be faced. Give a man a choice between freedom and bread and he will always choose bread! The American farmer will be the one who, because of his superior skills, must take the lead in the world food production. God has endowed us with fertile soil and we, in turn, have honored Him by making the land yield as no one else has ever done.

If, however, the American farmer is to assume his role in world food production, he must first rid himself of the apathy that many Americans show towards his profession. A very good friend of mine told me of the experience she had after addressing a Chamber of Commerce in one of our larger cities. She related to me the statement that one gentleman made to her, he said:

"It is my belief that the only poor farmers in America are the ones who cannot afford to hire someone to wash their Cadillacs for them on Sunday morning."

I hope very few people in America hold this belief about farmers. Or, how about the image that some people have of the bib overalled farmer? If we, as farmers who comprise only 7 per cent of the population in America, are to safeguard our interests, we must do something about this image. We must start a campaign to change this image. Our profession is the only one that makes us of all the sciences in order to produce a product. I congratulate the Grange for its efforts in solving this problem of agricultural public relations. Our task is an inspiring one and every consumer should realize how fortunate he is to live in a country where only 18 per cent of his income is spent for food.

If we are to meet our challenges, then we must prepare ourselves through education. We must educate all of the population and do so in the fields to which each individual is most adapted. Senator Wayne Morse, in a recent address, made these statements:

"We must be all educated" and he went on to make this comparison:

"The average college graduate in his lifetime will earn about $475,000, and our high school and elementary school dropouts, if they are not on welfare or relief and if they are not locked up in our penal institutions for crimes they have committed or are not on skid row and they do some work, on the average they will earn $75-$90,000 in their lifetimes."

A shocking comparison. To me, this comparison is even more vivid, because we must consider the differences in attitudes and standards that these two groups will have.

However, we must be aware that not everyone will be able to have the capacity nor the desire to attend college. But, this does not mean that we cannot give these students an education that will give them a skill which they can market. With the complex equipment and sophisticated operations that today's farmer must possess, the old adage about a boy who, if he can't do anything else can always farm, is hog wash! Here is where Vocational Agriculture is meeting these challenges of education, for Vocational Agriculture not only gives the college-bound agriculture student the fundamental technical skills upon which to build his college education, but also it provides the terminal student with useable skills, skills which he can use in getting a better job and allow him to reach his highest goals.

An intercurricular part of Vocational Agriculture is the Future Farmers of America. The F.F.A. provides a means for leadership and citizenship training as well as furthering the total education of the student. Vocational Agriculture and the F.F.A. not only train agriculture students but also, I can tell you of our chapter president who is now at West Point and of the many other boys I know, some pursuing the fields of engineering, law, and medicine. All of these boys have a Vocational Agriculture and F.F.A. background. Truly, our program is a broad one that effects the lives of millions of boys and helps them to get a step closer to manhood.

Ladies and gentlemen, our challenges in agriculture are many. Agriculture is a grand occupation that carries large responsibilities and tremendous opportunities. It makes a man feel that he has accomplished part of that for which God placed him upon this earth.

My plea, my resolve: Stay abreast of our changing times, yet holding fast to the basic ideals and fundamental truths that have given us our heritage, constantly reaching far into this wonderful unexplored future to attain new horizons in agriculture.

I, as a Future Farmer of America, pledge my heart and strengths to devoted service to the principles for which this great land was created and to its productive resources.

Thank you, and may God bless each and every one of you.

REPORT OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON TAXATION*CALIFORNIA STATE GRANGE

Worthy State Master, Members of the Delegate Body, Patrons and Friends:

As we meet here in general session the uncertainties, the problems, the selfishness, the greediness, the increases in demand of certain services and privileges, the inflation, the higher standards of living, and the many special demands reflect an alarming impasse for the taxpayer and those who are required to legislate the same.

The power to tax by all levels of government—and there are many—federal, state, county, city, school, and special districts of all kinds, have become an almost unbearable load on the property tax base.

Tax exemptions, special tax depreciation, oil depletion, so called religious exemptions in the broadest term, tax write-offs, from one profitable business to a capital gains business, and many other tax gimmicks only add to the property tax especially to the home owner and the family sized farm.

Assessments. The art of assessing has become a college degree nightmare. Values have no relation to realistic values; values have no relation to ability to pay. They are not based on true historical values. Assessing should be based on common knowledge such as usage, past, present and future.

FARM LAND

1. Should be assessed at a fair market value of what it will produce in crops common to the area.

2. Agricultural land should not be assessed as subdivision land—unless it is idle strictly for speculative purposes.

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

1. Should be assessed on a cash market value instead of a false market value, the difference being in an all cash deal, as opposed to a small or no down payment.

2. Single family home owners should not be penalized on assessments for major repairs or upkeep, such as painting, roofing and improvement of their properties.

3. The property owner using it as a home should not be assessed except as such, regardless of zoning.

4. Household furnishings and personal effects should be exempt from taxation.

BUSINESS INVENTORY

1. Should be assessed on average of previous year.

Recently Mr. George R. Reilly, a 29 year member of the California State Board of Equalization proposed a plan which envisions one billion dollars in property tax relief. Reilly's plan calls for assessing different classes of property at various ratios of market value, the imposing of a  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1% tax on the gross receipts of all business or services and the State of California assuming the entire cost of supporting our more than 70 Junior Colleges.

Reilly's plan would require a Constitutional amendment and briefly provides:

1. Assessment of all business inventories at 5 percent of full market value.

2. Assessment of owner-occupied single family homes at 15 percent of full market value.

3. Assessment of all income producing property or land held for speculation at 25 percent of full market value.

4. Public Utility owned property to be assessed at 35 percent of full market value.

5. All household personal property other than that held for sale would be entirely tax free.

6. The State of California assumes full responsibility for support of Junior Colleges.

7. Funds to finance the plan would come from a tax of one-half of one percent on the gross receipts of any business done or service performed within California.

According to Mr. Reilly the estimated income of a gross receipts tax should produce approximately one billion dollars during the calendar year 1969. This should steadily increase with the growth of the State and should in a large measure produce an ever increasing total of revenue to meet the rising cost of State Governmental services.

During the first year's revenue, about seventy-five percent of the amount collected would be necessary to provide the tax replacement necessary to offset tax reductions of eighty percent for business inventories and about forty-four percent for the California homeowners.

The remaining 25 percent of this one billion dollars would be available for financing the entire cost of Junior Colleges in California.

As an example, today a home with a market value of $18,400.00 the current property tax is around $375.00. Household furniture an additional $25.00, making a total of $400.00.

Under the proposed plan, this same home would be appraised at only 15 percent or $2,750.00 and the tax would be $226.00.

It is estimated that the gross receipts in 1969 will surpass 200 billion dollars, with  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1 percent tax producing around one billion dollars a year.

It is also provided that the assessed value of a home should not rise more than 5 percent in any calendar year, and that no business or income property valuation should be increased more than 10 percent in any one year.

In putting into effect this proposed Reilly Plan every precaution should be taken to the end that property tax relief and reform be clearly spelled out in any Constitutional amendment.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS

There are approximately 5,700 special districts in California. The rapid expansion of these special districts with broad taxing powers has become a serious contender for the California taxpayer's dollar. The overlapping of special districts should be eliminated, and where possible consolidated.

There are many avenues of services now being rendered at the request of people that great tax savings might be affected by a review of the following:

TAX EXEMPTIONS:

Tax exemptions in California now have reached approximately 2 billion dollars. It is the feeling of the Committee that this is the time to re-examine and re-evaluate its impact on the total tax structure.

THE ABUSE OF WELFARE, POVERTY PROGRAM AND SPECIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Everyone wants to relieve poverty, ignorance, crime, disease and all the manifest afflictions of society, but the mere appropriation of additional billions in public funds will not answer all needs.

In the space of 20 years between 1946 and 1967 the total expended by tax supported agencies for so-called public relief programs has burgeoned from 300 million dollars to 4.2 billion dollars. There is also an additional 2.7 billion dollars in State funds to be added. In 1940 there were 891,000 people receiving this relief assistance—the 1966 figures total 5,660,000. Programs of unlimited disbursement of tax collected funds encourage a way of life which breaks down the moral fibre of any great nation. Today we find 1 out of 10 households fatherless and in certain minority groups 1 out of 4. If this trend continues, by 1972 we can expect 1 out of every 12 children born in these United States will be illegitimate, and also in certain groups 1 out of every 4 will bear the stigma of illegitimacy.

It would seem that the best recommendation would be to ask for a complete Congressional and State Legislative study of the whole Welfare Program.

FEDERAL AND STATE AID

Consideration should be given to any demands made for State or Federal aid.

False economy exists if a taxpayer believes that he does not have to pay for "assistance" obtained from the State and Federal Governments.

We recommend a study be made to determine if it is economically sound that, for example, a district must be bonded to the limit before certain percentages of aid can be obtained from the State or Federal Governments.

The Grange has for many years favored local Government operating its own affairs with a minimum of outside "assistance."

Economy in Government must be practiced—each citizen should know that every service provided, costs money.

EDUCATION.

Approximately 50 percent to 60 percent of your property tax dollar goes for education. Over 50 percent of the State Budget goes to education.

No one should deny the opportunity for education to anyone who can reasonably assimilate it. Dollars alone, cannot provide a true education. Determination, ability, sincere desire plus a real willingness to advance, should be part of the criteria to determine the necessity of further education.

Taxpayers should not be obliged to pay the bill for those who take advantage of our educational system year after year, those who seek to tear down our Democracy.

We must in our efforts to provide the necessary tax dollars for education, insist that rigid business practices be applied—basic fundamentals must be taught in the elementary schools. Self-creativity should be minimized at the lower level. Responsibility, respect and discipline should be emphasized in the school as well as the home.

SUMMARY: The Tax Advisory Committee has presented some of its views and statements relative to the complex field of our tax structure. We urge that:

1. Every taxing authority use all the care intrusted in them to prudently provide the necessary tax money for the reasonable operation and duties required.

2. Social programs at all levels be directed towards self-determination to enable self-sufficiency.

3. Education be made the responsibility of the student, the parent and the school rather than so-called self-creativity of a loosely run self-imposed student with no discipline, no respect and no allegiance to himself or his fellow man.

4. The property tax base has reached its limit be it the home, the farm, personal property, business inventories or business property, a broader and more equitable tax base must be found to better provide the vast amount of money so necessary to carry out and perform the day to day operations and functions of a growing economy geared to our standard of living as we know it today.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT 1967 ANNUAL CONVENTION
CALIFORNIA STATE GRANGE

Riverside, California, October 17 - 20, 1967

AGRICULTURE

No. 1      "Relative To The Passage of AB-1105"      AGRI. 1
                 ESCALON GRANGE No. 447

WHEREAS: Agriculture is the largest industry in California, and

WHEREAS: Many crops are especially vulnerable to damage by certain birds, and

WHEREAS: The control of said birds is necessary before crop damage is done,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the California State Grange support present statutes that protect agricultural crops from damage by predatory animals or birds.

No. 3 "Relative To FFA And 4H Exhibits" AGRI. 3
SONOMA COUNTY POMONA GRANGE No. 1

WHEREAS: Future Farmers and 4H projects have been exhibited at the California State Fair for many years during August and September, and

WHEREAS: When the new Fairgrounds open in 1968, changes were made contrary to past procedures, and not in agreement with many FFA and 4H groups, farm organizations, Civic and business leaders, and

WHEREAS: We feel the present policy of the State Fair Board to make changes that would inconvenience these hard working students is unjust and not in the best interest,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the California State Grange urge the State Fair Board to keep the present practice of FFA and 4H exhibitors at the new Fairgrounds.

No. 5. "Agricultural Producers Marketing Act of 1967" AGRI. 5
MERCED COLONY GRANGE No. 527

WHEREAS: Legislation designed to assure the marketing rights of farmers by prohibiting unfair trade practices has been introduced in Congress, and

WHEREAS: Widespread use of marketing contracts has intensified the need for producers to strengthen their bargaining position for many commodities, and its use will be more widespread in the future, and

WHEREAS: If farmers and ranchers are to have the opportunity to develop sound marketing programs in order to improve their net income, they must be assured of their marketing rights,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the California State Grange go on record as supporting the adoption of legislation that will guarantee marketing rights for the farmer, and to request the support of the National Grange in adopting said legislation.

No. 7. "To Extend The National Labor Relations Act To Agriculture" AGRI. 7

MERCED COLONY GRANGE No. 527

WHEREAS: H. R. 4769 introduced in the United States Congress by Congressman James O'Hara of Michigan, would eliminate the exemption of Agriculture in the National Labor Relations Act, and

WHEREAS: This would mean that farmers would be required to "bargain in good faith" with a union representing a majority of their employees, and

WHEREAS: No vote of employees would be necessary, since the National Labor Relations Board has adopted the policy in recent years, that if a Union signs up a majority of the workers of an employer, either on cards or petitions, this is sufficient evidence of the desire of workers to be represented by the Union, and

WHEREAS: Enactment of H.R. 4769 would also mean that a farmer would be subject to the unfair labor practices provisions of the Act, i.e. if he did anything to discourage unionization, or violated other provisions of the Act, and

WHEREAS: H.R. 4769 would also authorize a Union and a farmer to sign a pre-employment contract, under the provisions of which any worker subsequently employed could be required to join the Union within seven days after employment, and which could also provide that the Union would have the first opportunity to refer workers to the farmer. This type of contractual provision is commonly referred to as the "Hiring Hall" arrangement, and

WHEREAS: Farmers are the most vulnerable employers in the world. While most industrial or commercial concerns may suffer a reduction in profits as a result of a strike, it is rare for them to be disastrously affected. A strike when a perishable crop is ready to harvest would in most cases result loss of profits or in many cases no income for the year, and possible bankruptcy,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the California State Grange go on record as opposing the adoption of H.R. 4769, and request the support of the National Grange in opposing the adoption of this Bill until and unless some provision can be made to pass along to the consumer any price increase necessary to maintain a reasonable profit for the farmer.

No. 8. "Resolution on Cream Substitutes Used In Eating Establishments" AGRI. 8

ORICK VALLEY GRANGE No. 508

WHEREAS: Many eating establishments are now using cream substitutes for coffee cream, and

WHEREAS: These cream substitutes are offered for use in eating establishments with no public notice posted that they are offering substitutes, and

WHEREAS: These substitutes would appear to be working to the detriment of the dairy industry,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Granges in the State of California support legislation to make it mandatory that CREAM SUBSTITUTE NOTICES be predominantly displayed in all eating establishments or businesses offering these substitutes for use.

No. 78 "Relative To Enactment Of Relief Legislation For Domestic Fisheries" AGRI. 9

NEWPORT HARBOR GRANGE No. 776

WHEREAS: Certain Latin-American countries have, since the first of the year, seized 10 American fishing vessels, primarily Southern California Tuna Clippers, confiscating their catch and equipment, assessing heavy fines and in some instances imprisoning their crews, and

WHEREAS: These seizures were made well beyond the 12 mile limit established by international agreement, but within an area of 200 miles established by these countries as their individual arbitrary territorial limit, and at gun point, and

WHEREAS: Protective legislation has been presented in the United States Senate by a Bill authored jointly by Senators Warren Magnusson (Washington) and Thomas Kuchel (California) to provide some compensation for damage suffered by the fishermen from these seizures, and

WHEREAS: If this fishery, and all other segments of the fisheries in the United States are to maintain their place in the food producing segment of our Nation, then they must be given some protection.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the California State Grange have its legislative representative in Sacramento obtain all information possible at the State level to enact and carry out the proper procedures whereby the California Legislature will petition the United States Legislature thru its Senators, Thomas Kuchel and George Murphy, to review this matter thoroughly and act for the interest of this very valuable domestic industry which has suffered greatly in California, and that the California State Grange present this matter in its agenda at the National Grange Convention in Syracuse, New York in November 1967 and request all possible National Grange legislative assistance and advice toward obtaining a complete review of the present Bills (Magnusson-Kuchel Bill) and the recommendation from the National Grange Legislative Representative as to necessary procedures to bring about an early and favorable enactment of legislation for the domestic fisheries, such recommendations to be passed thru the State Grange down to the "Harbor" Granges (San Diego, Newport Beach, Los Angeles and Bodega Bay) that they might follow thru with their efforts in this direction.
